PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS DEFINITIONS

Climbing – Ascending or descending ladders, stairs, scaffolding, ramps, poles and the like, using feet and legs and/or hands and arms. Body agility is emphasized. This factor is important if the amount and kind of climbing required exceeds that required for ordinary locomotion.

Balancing – Maintaining body equilibrium to prevent falling when walking, standing or crouch on narrow, slippery or erratically moving surfaces. This factor is important if the amount and kind of balancing exceeds that needed for ordinary locomotion and maintenance of body equilibrium.

Stooping – Bending body downward and forward by bending spine at the waist. This factor is important as it occurs to a considerable degree and requires full use of the lower extremities and back muscles.

Kneeling – Bending legs at knee to come to a rest on knee or knees.

Crouching – Bending the body downward and forward by bending leg and spine.

Crawling – Moving about on hands and knees or hands and feet.

Reaching – Extending hand(s) and arm(s) in any direction.

Standing – Particularly for sustained periods of time.

Walking – Moving about on foot to accomplish tasks, particularly for long distances.

Static Position – Maintaining the same body position for a period of time in order to complete a task.

Pushing – Using upper extremities to press against something with steady force in order to thrust forward, downward or outward.

Pulling – Using upper extremities to exert force in order to draw, drag, haul or tug objects in a sustained motion.

Lifting – Raising objects from a lower to a higher position or moving objects horizontally from position to position. This factor is important if it occurs to a considerable degree and requires the substantial use of the upper extremities and back muscles.

Fingering – Picking, pinching, typing, or otherwise working, primarily with fingers rather than with the whole hand or arm as in handling.

Grasping – Applying pressure to an object with the fingers and palm.

Feeling – Perceiving attributes of objects, such as size, shape, temperature or texture by touching skin, particularly that of fingertips.

Talking – Expressing or exchanging ideas by means of spoken word. Those activities in which they must convey detailed or important spoken instructions to other workers accurately, loudly or quickly.

Hearing – Perceiving the nature of sounds with no less than 4 db loss @ 500 Hz, 1,000 Hz and 2,000 Hz with or without correction. Ability to receive detailed information through oral communication and to make fine discriminations in sound, such as when making fine adjustments on machined parts.

Seeing – The ability to perceive the nature of objects by the eye. Seeing is important for hazardous positions in which defective seeing would result in injury and positions in which special and minute accuracy, inspecting and sorting exist. A high degree of visual efficiency, placing intense and continuous demands on the eyes by moving machinery and other objects are also considered important. Other important factors of seeing are acuity (near and far), depth perception (three-dimensional vision), accommodation (adjustment of lens of eye to bring an object into sharp focus), field of vision (area that can be seen up and down or to the right or left while eyes are fixed on a given point) and color vision (ability to identify and distinguish colors).

Repetitive Motions – Frequent, sustained movement patterns of the upper extremities (fingers, hands, wrists, elbows, shoulders).

Carrying – The physical act of manually transporting objects from one to another.

Driving – The physical act of operating a motor vehicle.
