

2018
Technology
Fair

Identifying Publication Opportunities

Looking Beyond Journal Impact Factor

Join us as we explore tools and resources used to support researchers throughout the publishing process. We will discuss ways to identify potential journals, different types of impact metrics, and library services that support scholarly publishing.

Identifying potential journals related to your field.

Measuring impact and making your work more widely available.

Services to support researchers throughout the publishing process.