October 1961 will mark the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of medical education in Tennessee. The year 1961 is the fiftieth year in which the University of Tennessee Medical Units have been located at Memphis. It is the desire of the staff of the JU Hospital to acquaint its readers with the historical aspects of the Medical Units. We sincerely hope that this brief history will create an interest in the history of the individual colleges as well as the Medical Units as a whole.

The medical department of the University of Nashville, through the efforts of Dr. J. Kermit Lindsey, opened its doors in the fall of 1871. He organized a group of six Nashville physicians who became the first faculty. This school was the first of four medical colleges which were to become, in 1911, the University of Tennessee College of Medicine.

In 1876 the Nashville Medical College was organized, which became, in 1879, the medical department of the University of Tennessee. Also in 1876, an independent medical school was organized in Memphis under the name of the Memphis Hospital Medical College. Because of the yellow fever epidemic it did not begin instruction until 1880. In 1878 the dental college was founded in Nashville in connection with the University of Tennessee Medical College. It was the first dental school to be operated in the South. In 1889 the Tennessee Medical College was established in Knoxville. It became the medical department of Lincoln Memorial University in 1905.

The turn of the century in 1898, pharmacy and nursing entered the picture. The pharmacy department was started as a course at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, granting the first degree in 1900. Nursing education

THE TURN OF THE

CENTURY AND A NEW LOCATION

Memphis General Hospital served as the city's charity hospital until John Gaston Hospital was built on the same site in 1906.

Parking problems seemed to exist even in the early days.

Firsthand observation was available in the surgery amphitheater of the Memphis General Hospital.

Roger Hall, home of the old Memphis Hospital Medical College, was acquired in 1913. It was occupied by the dental college from 1913 to 1940 and served as a basic science building.

Eve Hall, constructed in 1922, was named for Paul F. Eve, Sr., an original member of the faculty of the school in Nashville. This building housed the pathology and bacteriology laboratories.
In the early years of the Medical Units the students participated in athletics and produced football teams in the tradition that marked the best in the South.

was inaugurated at the Memphis General Hospital when a nursing school was established by Mrs. Lena A. Warner, who conducted a two year program.

The year 1906 brought the founding of a second medical school in Memphis, the College of Physicians and Surgeons, which was housed in one building, now Lindsey Hall, facing the City Hospital.

In 1909, Dr. Brown Ayres, then president of the University of Tennessee, launched the University upon a spectacular and successful series of mergers. During this year the two schools of medicine in Nashville began operation under the title of the "Joint Medical Department of the University of Nashville and University of Tennessee." The School of Pharmacy was moved from Knoxville to Nashville where it was operated as a department of pharmacy under the medical department. This arrangement continued for the next two years.

In 1911 the big move to Memphis was made, and the College of Physicians and Surgeons was also incorporated into the University of Tennessee College of Medicine. The School of Pharmacy was then operated in Memphis as a separate school from the medical college.

The College of Dentistry was moved to Memphis in 1911, absorbed the University of Memphis College of Dental Surgery (founded 1910), and through this union, the faculty, students, and equipment of the two schools merged into one school which was located at 177 Union Avenue. In 1915 it was moved to Rogers Hall, home of the old Memphis Hospital Medical College, which the University acquired in 1913. This building, opened in 1903, was named for the principal founder of the Memphis Hospital Medical College, W. E. Rogers, and served the University as a basic science building in addition to housing the dental college.

The first building used by the medical school was that of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, named Lindsey Hall for the founder of the medical department of the University of Nashville, J. Berrien Lindsey. In 1912 Eve Hall was built for use as a pathology and bacteriology laboratory. This building was named for an original member of the faculty of the Nashville school, Paul F. Eve, Sr.

The year 1913 brought more steps toward the formation of a greater medical center. The facilities of the Memphis

Hospital Medical College, which included faculty, buildings, and equipment, were secured. The library was established with a collection of 400 medical books. It was housed in Lineley Hall.

A year later the medical department of Lincoln Memorial University was discontinued. Many of the students transferred to Memphis in June to complete their courses. The School of Pharmacy applied for and received recognition by the New York Board of Regents, and the nursing school lengthened its program to three years at this time.

For the next few years the medical center continued to grow. In 1921 the city of Memphis signed an agreement with the University which stated that the city would care for the physical plant of the City Hospital and the University would provide the medical staff and services for the patients. This provided the students with an opportunity to train under the skilled eyes and hands of older, experienced physicians. In 1922, Dr. O. W. Hym-an, who later was to guide the Medical Union as its vice president, was appointed business manager, and in 1923 he was appointed administrative officer for the Medical Union and dean of the College of Medicine.

The School of Pharmacy became a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy in 1924. Two years later the University took over the Memphis General Hospital School of Nursing and placed it under the direction of the medical college. In 1926 the Division of Anatomy moved from Rogers Hall into its present quarters which was later named the Wittenberg Building in appreciation of the services of Dr. August H. Wittenberg who was head of the anatomy division from 1911 until his death in 1941.

Modern football fans will be surprised to note some of the scores of the U-T. 00..ors team of the early twenties. In 1922 the Doos defeated Ole Miss 24-6 and Arkansas 1140. This team went undefeated in eight games and was scored on only twice during the entire season.

Dr. T. P. Nash, Jr., at that time head of the Division of Chemistry, became dean of the newly established School of Biological Sciences in 1928. The school was organized to coordinate the teaching of the basic sciences of the health services, and to offer graduate instruction leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in the basic biological sciences. Dr. Nash served in this capacity for thirty-two years.

The year 1928 was also another building year for the University. The C.P.J. Mooney Memorial Library Building was completed along with the Pharmacy Building and these were...

AND PROGRESS FOR FUTURE YEARS

The School of Nursing became an autonomous unit of the University in 1949. A four year degree program began in 1950, and in 1958 a program was inaugurated in which the students were required to spend one year in pre-nursing work in a liberal arts college. In 1961 the school became the College of Nursing.

In 1958 the School of Pharmacy was renamed the College of Pharmacy, and a five year program begins in the fall of 1961.

In January, 1960, graduate study in the basic sciences, formerly a function of the school of Biological Sciences, was organized under an associate dean of the Graduate School, Medical Sciences. Dr. Roland H. Alden serves in this capacity.

Leadership of the schools and colleges at the University of Tennessee Medical Unit rests on the shoulders of Dr. M. K. Collison who was appointed dean of the College of Medicine in 1958; Dr. Shafter Patterson who assumed the duties of dean of the College of Dentistry in June of 1961; Dr. Selden D. Frear, appointed dean of the College of Pharmacy in 1958; and Miss Ruth Neil Murray who has been dean of the College of Nursing since 1949. In addition to serving as associate dean of the Graduate School, Dr. Alden, who has been acting dean since the retirement of Dr. Nash in 1960, was appointed Dean of the School of Biological Sciences in June 1961. Director of the Medical Units is now under Dr. Her- mer F. Mann, vice president. He succeeded Dr. O. W. Hu- man who retired in July 1961 after serving the University in an administrative capacity for thirty-nine years.

New buildings are in the construction or blueprint stage at the present time. The Colleges of Dentistry and Pharmacy are looking forward with great anticipation to the comple- tion of the Dental-Pharmacy Research Building on the old church site. Work is almost completed on the renovation of Lindley Hall for the new headquarters of the College of Nursing. The new Psychiatric Hospital and Research Institute is near completion. A new Radiology Building will shortly be built. More plans for expansion are complete at this time but these plans, which heretofore have been dormant, promise a medical center which will continue to grow and maintain its status as one of the great medical institutions of the times.

Up to date methods in patient care are learned by nursing students on the hospital wards.

During this year, 1961, Dr. O. W. Hyman retired as vice president of the University after forty-eight years of association with the school. When Dr. Hyman was first appointed an instructor in histology in 1913 the University had only three buildings; it had the same three in 1922 when he was appointed business manager. In 1925 Dr. Hyman was named dean of the College of Medicine and administrative officer of the Medical Unit; in 1946 he was elevated to vice president. Without question he is the man most closely associated with and most responsible for the expansive growth of the University of Tennessee Medical Unit. Today the University trains over 1900 students a year in six schools and colleges, its campus stretches over a wide area, and the University is the nucleus of one of the finest medical centers in the world.

*New graduate in March '62
Graduate School—

Since the organization of the School of Biological Sciences in 1928, graduate instruction leading to the Master of Science degree and the degree of Doctor of Philosophy has been offered at the University of Tennessee Medical School. Certain tissue culture studies involving mouse leukemia are carried out by pathology and microbiology graduate students.

Units. Such work is presently offered in the basic medical science divisions of Anatomy, Chemistry, Pathology and Microbiology, Pharmacology, and Physiology.

In January, 1960, graduate study was organized under the associate dean and a Graduate Medical Sciences Council. At this time Dr. Roland H. Alden was appointed to the position of Associate Dean of the Graduate School—Medical Sciences.

The faculty of the Graduate School consists of those members of the several faculties who are actively engaged in research and the instruction of candidates for the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees.

Graduate students in pathology and microbiology prepare embryonic eggs for virus inoculation.

Advanced subjects are investigated in graduate seminars.

A dissecting microscope is used by anatomy graduate students to study embryos.

The Grass Polygraph is used in basic animal research in pharmacology.

Alpha Kappa Kappa

Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa was the first medical fraternity to appear on the U.T. campus, having received its charter in 1903 at Nashville and then migrating with the university to Memphis in 1911. Alpha Kappa Kappa International had its beginning at Dartmouth College on September 20, 1888, and today includes 38 chapters located in most of the important medical centers throughout the United States and Canada.

As the University has grown and prospered through the years, so has our fraternity flourished and we have many firsts to our credit. We are especially proud of the fact that we were the first fraternity on campus to build our own chapter house with the gracious and unselfish support of our alumni brothers. Being top fraternity in the scholarship race is common occurrence for AKK and we were first in this respect in the fall and winter quarters of 1960.

Of course social life is one of the most important things fraternities add to our campus and in this respect, AKK contributed significantly. In addition to our rush parties held each quarter, outstanding events of the past year have included our pajama party held during the winter quarter and a scrumptious spaghetti supper the following March. We are presently making plans for our alumni banquet and dance at which our sweethearts, Mrs. Evelyn Hughes Parrish, will be presented.

Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity was founded at the University of Michigan on November 23, 1885, by ten outstanding young men who were members during the first school year of the existence of Delta Sigma Delta and are considered the charter members.

The present chapter at the University of Tennessee, Kappa Kappa chapter of Delta Sigma Delta was organized on May 27, 1921. The need from which this chapter grew really sponsored in Kappa Chapter at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Kappa which was founded in 1896, was the first chapter in the South. The founding of Kappa Kappa Chapter was inevitable since the Vanderbilt University College of Dentistry classes was followed by the opening of the College of Dentistry at the University of Tennessee in Memphis.

It is with great pride that we of Delta Sigma Delta look at the past record of this fraternity. Scholarship has always played an important part in the life of this group as can be seen by examination of the various trophy cases. Many of the brothers can be found occupying offices in the student organizations, and others of equal merit.

This past year has brought about extensive renovations in the house and grounds of our fraternity. Painting, redecorating and other changes are now found on our first floor. A new fire escape has been completed. Plans are now under way for our new fraternity house to be located on the University of Tennessee's proposed fraternity row. This past year saw the pledging of a fine group of young men and we of Delta Sigma Delta feel that the coming year will more than exceed our expectations.

Graduate members of this fraternity are now occupying the majority of the Department Heads at the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry, a record of which Delta Sigma Delta is very proud.

The future of Delta Sigma Delta is indeed promising and we feel that bigger and better things are yet to come.

The first pharmacy fraternity of the professional fraternity, Kappa Psi, was founded at Russell Military Academy, New Haven, Connecticut, on May 30, 1879. Since that time Kappa Psi has steadily progressed to its present status of forty-eight active collegiate chapters and twenty-two active graduate chapters with more than 50,000 members.

Psi Chapter was organized in Memphis in 1913. After a slow but steady increase in membership, Psi chapter moved to its present location at 242 South Pauline Street, and since has become the largest pharmacy fraternity on the University of Tennessee campus. Psi chapter takes pride in saying that it initiated more than thirty-five new members this year which ranks among the top in all the Kappa Psi chapters in the nation.

Kappa Psi takes pride in its fraternity house which is oak and pine paneled throughout. The recently remodeled banquet room is the envy of the entire campus and is the site of the many and famous Kappa Psi parh... ...We, of Kappa Psi, are well known as campus leaders, holding down affairs in charge as well as in the other various organizations on the campus. Psi chapter is always a competitor in the intramural athletic events participating in all intercollegiate contests. Our chapter is especially fortunate to have such fine supervision from our faculty members, J. E. Haberle, our Grand Council Deputy, and William Swafford, Satrap of Province VII of Kappa Psi.

Kappa Psi ranks high in scholarship in the College of Pharmacy with the scholarship award consistently being presented to Kappa Psi.

Kappa Psi is a member of the Professional Interfraternity Conference organized in 1928 to encourage high scholarship, professional conduct, advancement of professional ethics, and the perpetuation of a spirit of comity among the professional fraternities in the advancement of fraternal ideals.

The Phi Chi Medical Fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont on March 31, 1889. It has grown to become the largest medical fraternity in the world with 58 chapters spread over the world. At present there are 45,200 members.

Alpha Beta chapter was founded here in 1913, and was officially inducted April 4, 1928. In 1930 the Alumni Association of Alpha Beta purchased our house which is located at 216 N. Waldran. We at Alpha Beta are the largest chapter of the largest medical fraternity in the world. At this time our membership is 200 of which about 70 live in the house.

Past presiding officers are: Tom Marks, Presiding Senior; Don Chandler, Presiding Junior; Gary J. Billmeier, Secretary; and John Crenshaw, Treasurer. These men will continue to keep Phi Chi the highly efficient social organization it has been in the past. We have run in the black for the past twelve years and at present have no outstanding debts. Phi Chi is the social light of the campus and is widely known for the number and quality of its social events. We have a large ballroom in the house which is used only for social purposes. We also have a smaller party room which is equipped with TV, a bar and music. We also have a large TV room with cable television. We average one social event a month, with the social climax of the year being our Founder's Day Celebration. Our Fraternity Sweetheart is presented on this occasion. Our present sweetheart is Mrs. Tim Nichols.

We have won the grand intramural trophy six out of the last twelve years and also the grand champions for 60-61. Our chapter has claimed the scholastic trophy many times in the past and placed in the top three scholastically for the past year.

Phi Chi
The Phi Delta Chi Fraternity was founded on November 7, 1883, at the University of Michigan. Eleven men were gathered here to effect an organization to achieve the science of pharmacy and to foster and promote a fraternal spirit among its members. From this beginning, the fraternity has grown to a present size of forty active chapters, serving the major colleges of pharmacy in the United States.

The Omegad Chapter, the twenty-fourth chapter of Phi Delta Chi, was founded in 1922 at the University of Tennessee at Memphis. Dr. R. L. Cover, Dean of the School of Pharmacy at that time and later Grand President of Phi Delta Chi, was influential in founding the chapter.

It is with great pride that we of Phi Delta Chi look at the past record of this fraternity. Scholarship has always played an important part in the life of this group, which is shown by Phi Delta Chi leading the campus in scholarship for the first quarter of the school year.

Members of this group hold important offices in the Student Branch of the A.P.H.A., Phi Chi and Student Council. Phi Delta Chi has a very strong intramural program, ranking high among its competitors.

Great leaders of all pharmaceutical endeavor since 1883 have been grounded in the valuable lessons of Phi Delta Chi Fraternity democracy. There has been found to be no substitute for this training. It is the "grass roots" of our real accomplishments. Individual chapters and their adherence to great and dynamic fraternal principles for the promotion of the profession make us strong. Collective efforts of our forty chapters make us a great and forward force in the American Pharmacy of today.

Phi Rho Sigma is an international medical fraternity founded at Northwestern University in 1890. Phi Rho Sigma is a member of the Professional Interfraternity Conference and the Medical Interfraternity Conference. Phi Rho Sigma has chapters in approved medical schools in the United States and Canada, ranging from Nova Scotia to California. Phi Rho Sigma has twenty-six undergraduate chapters and nineteen alumni chapters having a membership of approximately 2,000 undergraduates and 20,000 alumni members. Chi Epsilon chapter at the University of Tennessee was organized and granted a charter in 1929.

Two very important events have taken place in Chi Epsilon chapter during the past year. The first of these was the decision to sell the property and chapter house at 1318 Lamar Avenue and build a new house. At present the new chapter house is under construction on the corner of Somervell and Eastmoreland, just four blocks from the campus. The new chapter house will be completely modern in architecture and living conveniences. It will house thirty-two men.

The second event was the winning of the Fraternity Intramural Grand Trophy in 1960. In a highly contested battle that lasted until the last game of the last sports event of the year, the trophy was won by a very narrow margin. This was the first time the trophy has come to the Phi Rho Sigma house in 18 years.

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Xi Psi Phi received its charter March 26, 1921. It remained an active chapter till the outbreak of World War II. At this time it became inactive, and remained so until November 15, 1947 when it became reactivated. Since this time the members of Alpha Omicron have been active in all of the activities sponsored by the University of Tennessee. Xi Psi Phi is not only a national fraternity but an international fraternity as well.

Lambda Kappa Sigma

Lambda Kappa Sigma, International Pharmaceutical Sorority, was founded at Massambourage College of Pharmacy on October 14, 1913. Since then Lambda Kappa Sigma has continued to grow and is now the oldest and largest pharmaceutical sorority with 34 active chapters in the United States and Canada and 37 graduate chapters. Our basic sorority operation provides for the training, of young womanhood culturally, socially, educationally and professionally.

The "Moxor and Pestle Club" was formed at the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy in January 1900. The ultimate goal of this organization was to become affiliated with the national society, Lambda Kappa Sigma.

The hope became a reality when on May 18, 1931, the group was installed as Alpha Epsilon Chapter with eight charter members. Since that time membership has increased to forty-three with two honorary members.

Every year Lambda Kappa Sigma becomes mote and mote active on the UT campus. As we continue to grow, our primary purpose is uppermost in our minds, that of seeking to further the position of women in the profession of pharmacy.
Athletics

Winning seven of the nineteen events of the 1960-61 fraternity intramural program, Phi Chi won the Grand Intramural Championship. Phi Rho Sigma was second, followed by Alpha Kappa Kappa.

Phi Chi won the golf tournament, swimming meet, and the bowling tournament. The volleyball romance was won by Phi Beta Sigma, who also finished first in the basketball league. The softball title was won by Kappa Psi.

Bob Overholt was named best athlete, and Fred Massey and Don Robertson were both named best sportsman, to win the 1960 K. R. Van Horn awards.

In class competition, the Dental Class of December '61 won the summer class softball championship of 1960. For the first time classes participated in a volleyball program during the early part of the '61 spring quarter; this was won by the Medical Class of June '62. The '60 "Open" golf tournament was won by Phil Webb, and Hal Henderson finished first in the '60 "Open" tennis tourney. The nurses were the winners of the '60 women's volleyball league, and the junior nurses took first place in the '61 women's softball program. Three teams participated in women's basketball. The nurses competed with other schools in Memphis and in the South, finishing third in the Cotton States Nurses Tourney. The dental hygienists and pharmacists competed in local Memphis leagues.

The Tennessee chapter elects members early in the spring quarter and holds its initiation banquet in June of every year. An effort is made at that time to obtain a speaker to give a talk on some medical or non-medical topic which is of current interest.

Occasionally a deserving alumnus of the University is elected to membership. Recently Dr. Garland Frank Jones, Jr. was elected as the Distinguished Alumnus Member. Fifteen members are being made to expand the activity and influence of AOA in the life of the medical units, particularly in the fields of scholarship and medical research.
Dean's Society

The Dean's Society was founded at the University of Tennessee on December 6, 1948. It is an honorary society for undergraduate students in the College of Dentistry. It was named by its founders to honor Dr. Richard Daggett Dean, former Dean of the College of Dentistry, and his wife, Dr. Margaret Taylor Dean, former associate professor of Oral Pathology. Its membership consists of outstanding junior and senior students who are selected by a combined Faculty-Student Election Committee.

The purpose of the society is to propagate and perpetuate professional ideals and ethics; to exert its influence untiringly for the advancement of the dental profession in methods of teaching, practice, and jurisprudence; to elevate and sustain the professional character and education of dentists; to promote among them mutual improvement and good will; and to disseminate knowledge of dentistry and dental discoveries.

Nurses' Student Council

The Student Council of the University of Tennessee College of Nursing is composed of student body officers and a representative from each class within the school. This group serves a multifaceted role: representing the students, maintaining a strong relationship with the faculty, and acting as a mediating body between the faculty and the students. During the past year the council has succeeded in revising the constitution and bylaws, improving rules and originating a new budget. Within this financial plan the student body sent nine representatives to the National Student Nurses' Convention, Cleveland, Ohio, and two delegates to the State Convention, sponsored an annual spring formal, and the annual basketball team. The members of the council are elected by the senior students and serve a term of one year. Two faculty members act as advisors and help guide the group in its various activities.

The Nux Club is a honorary society of the University of Tennessee Medical Center. It is comprised of seniors who are representatives of the Interfraternity Council, organized in 1959, for the purpose of accomplishing the following: (1) Advancing the spirit of good will and fellowship among and between the various fraternities of the University; (2) Promoting favorable publicity for the Memphis unit of the University.

Student Council

The Student Council is composed of the four officers of the student body and the presidents of each quarter's class in Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Nursing, Dental Hygiene, and Medical Technology and delegates from other representative organizations on the campus.

The officers of the Student Council are elected in a general election of the student body and serve for one year. The officers of President, Vice-President and Treasurer are rotated yearly between the Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Pharmacy, and the Secretary is nominated from the College of Nursing.

The purpose of the Student Council is to promote the activities of the student life in the University, to serve as a center for such activities, to promote the best interests of the student, and to act as a liaison between the students and the faculty and administration. The Council spends much of its time in dealing with various problems the students may have.

The Student Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association was established in 1948 at the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy. Its objective is to broaden the education and knowledge of the student by furnishing monthly to each member the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association and by bringing well-known speakers in the field of Pharmacy to the University for lectures. It also functions as a medium whereby the student is able to establish contact with the organized program of the profession during the period he is receiving his education.
The University of Tennessee Student Chapter of the American Dental Hygienists' Association is an organization composed of the dental hygiene students enrolled in the University of Tennessee. Participation in the organization helps to orient the student in her chosen profession; increases her interest in and knowledge of organized dental hygiene; and acquaints her with the importance of active membership in the American Dental Hygienists' Association after graduation. The cooperative efforts of all students are directed toward the promotion of high standards and ideals for the dental hygiene profession.

The Junior Medical Auxiliary is composed of wives of medical students. The Memphis chapter has been active since 1943 and is now the second largest chapter in the United States. Some of the Auxiliary's activities include welfare work with the children's ward of the college's teaching hospital, a University-wide Book Exchange for the resale of textbooks, and the sponsorship of the Junior Medical Auxiliary Student Loan Fund. The group also works in conjunction with the local welfare department.
The Junior Pharmacy Auxiliary was organized in the year 1951 as a means to promote friendship and fellowship among the wives of the Pharmacy students of the University of Tennessee.

The members share beautiful memories as they look back over the past years at the senior dinners, parties, and picnics, but, the most satisfying memories are of the useful projects carried on during the year. The present projects of the Auxiliary are donating food, clothing, and money to a needy family at Christmas and sponsoring two lovely teenage girls from the Episcopal girls home.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is more than a social fellowship. It is a movement through which the student anchors himself to the church in such a manner that worship maintains itself in his life as a force rather than a form. Intellectual programs are presented in order to meet the spiritual needs of every Baptist student while he pursues his graduate studies in the Medical Center. An imperative for each of us is to know Him—then to make Him known.

The Baptist Student Center, located at 879 Union, is open Monday through Saturday 9:00 A.M.-11:00 P.M., Sunday 2:00-5:00 P.M. and 9:00-11:00 P.M.

Koinonia

KOINONIA is a fellowship composed of students in the Medical Center who are drawn together by their common Christian faith. A Greek word occurring often in the New Testament, koinonia describes the fellowship, communion, and joint participation which characterized the primitive church. We take it as our keynote in the belief that it symbolizes a most vital aspect of the religion of Jesus Christ. Through group worship, Bible study, and discussion we seek increased insight into Biblical truth and its implications for the healing professions. We invite all Christians to share our fellowship.

Non-denominational devotional services are held each Tuesday from 12:25 to 12:50 p.m. in room 208 of the University Center. A mimeographed publication, called the "Koinonia Newsletter," is mailed regularly to about 250 persons.

A series of talks on "Truth, Language, and Logic" by Carl Spain, of Abilene, Texas, was presented in the University Center auditorium during the spring quarter under Koinonia sponsorship.

The 1961 Asklepieion

Our sincere thanks to our advisor, Jim Stoedale, for his splendid help in gathering and coordinating the material used in this book. Thanks, also, to Mr. Bill Benson and the Benson Printing Company for their patience while we changed our minds so many times, and to the Memphis Commercial Appeal for the colored aerial view.

The 1961 Asklepieion is the student body of the University of Tennessee Medical Units.

The purpose of this book is to present the history of the medical units and to depict student life as it occurs today. We hope that each student can find himself in the situations presented.
