The Asclepieion at Memphis, Egypt, was to the ancient world as the University of Tennessee Medical Units is to modern medical education, an outstanding center for the study and practice of the healing arts. It is therefore appropriate that this book be so named—in honor of the past; however, it looks to tomorrow, as we stride along its path of...

Through Application of Established Techniques...

The establishment of the various schools that comprise the University of Tennessee Medical Units at Memphis in 1911 was the culmination of the consolidation of most of the medical educational facilities in the state at that time. The eastern two-thirds of the state actually fostered most of the educational facilities now located in Memphis.

The College of Medicine had its foundings in four schools which culminated in a merger in Memphis in 1911. The College of Dentistry had its beginnings in Nashville in 1878. Later it consolidated with the Memphis College of Dental Surgery when the school moved to Memphis in 1911. The original School of Pharmacy was founded in Knoxville as part of the Chemistry Department, was moved to Nashville in 1909 and then in 1911 to Memphis. The School of Nursing actually started as the Memphis General
Footsteps to the Future

Hospital School of Nursing in 1898. The school was incorporated into the University in 1926 and became an autonomous unit of the University in 1949. The School of Basic Medical Sciences and the Graduate School had their beginnings with the establishment of the School of Biological Sciences in 1928.

The theme of this year's ASKLEPIEION, "Footsteps to the Future" might more appropriately be termed Giant Strides to the Future when one considers that the related medical professions have made greater progress toward improving the health of man in the last 50 years than were made in the previous 10,000 years. We here at the University of Tennessee Medical Units realize that we stand on the threshold of even greater conquests in the medical field than have been made at any time before.

Based on Understanding Fundamental Concepts of Science...
From the earliest beginnings of the Medical Units of the University of Tennessee to the present, the theme of those who have accepted the responsibility of developing this institution has been continued progress. Property surrounding the school has been purchased whenever the opportunity has presented itself, and as a result the facility for expansion has been, and will continue to be, available. It has been this foresight, combined with the untiring efforts of the administration, the state government, and the alumni that affords the Medical Units with an unlimited future. This prevailing atmosphere of progress will enable the University of Tennessee Medical Units to continue its excellence in the ever changing medical sciences.

The many facets of education available to students at "U.T. in Memphis" include development of academic prowess and professional rapport, in conjunction with a well balanced program of application of established techniques and methods for developing new techniques through research.

All students receive their basic instruction in the five departments of the School of Basic Medical Sciences. These five departments are Anatomy, Biochemistry, Pathology and Microbiology, Pharmacology and Physiology. It is this basic science foundation from which all of the allied medical professions derive basic principles and an understanding of the potential for future developments. This education in the basic sciences is paramount to the comprehension and application of future developments.

The more advanced phases of student training are obtained by active participation in one of the many medical facilities available to citizens of the surround-
Cooperation with the Related Medical Professions

A multitude of clinics, hospitals, laboratories, and other professional facilities combined with didactic instruction provide the student with the opportunity to harvest the fruits of constant study. The Medical Units of the University of Tennessee and allied institutions also offer the opportunity for graduates to extend their education if more specialization is desired. Active programs in advanced research and specialized clinical training are available. The University of Tennessee recognizes its obligation to the medical professions and hosts frequent postgraduate training programs which serve to acquaint practitioners with recent advances in the allied medical fields.
In An Endeavor to Better Serve Mankind

The practice of pediatric medicine presents new problems in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

While maintaining a program for educating the future members of the medical professions, the Medical Units of the University of Tennessee is continuing to provide for the enlargement and improvement of available facilities. Recently the New West Tennessee Psychiatric Hospital and Research Building has been completed. Now under construction are the Dental-Pharmacy Research Building and a new Radiology Building which will be important additions. They will share with facilities presently operating in the medical center affording the citizens of the surrounding area with superior medical care, and affording students with the opportunity to learn through experience. More plans for expansion are under consideration to serve as a promise that the University will maintain its status as one of the great medical institutions of this age and will serve as an integral part of the Medical Professions’ Future.

Practical application of manufacturing—the nine hundred suppositories manufactured by these students will be used to supply Memphis hospitals.

Pediatrics requires lots of TLC.
As you see this issue of ASKLEPIEION, some will be entering the latter periods of formal education for the health professions. Others will only be beginning such educational programs.

To all of you, I extend hearty wishes for success in your endeavors, for you will be contributing to the most important resource which our nation has; the health of its citizens.

External pressures are being exerted which, if they are successful, eventually and gradually can change the entire basic concept and philosophy of the health professions. Such changes frequently have come about through inertia and complacency on the part of the members of the professions.

Thus, as I would wish you every success in your work, let me also urge that you not abrogate your duties and privileges as citizens of whatever communities you choose in which to live. Make yourselves heard in every issue at stake.

The College of Medicine, which is the oldest of the schools contained within the medical units, was founded in 1876 in Nashville. This department was transferred to Memphis in 1911 by order of the Board of Trustees following a merger with the Nashville Medical School in 1909. Subsequently the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Memphis and the Medical Department of Lincoln Memorial University of Knoxville were added to the University of Tennessee School of Medicine. From this humble beginning the University of Tennessee College of Medicine has continued to expand into one of the finest medical centers in the South, which furnishes students with an abundance of valuable clinical and pre-clinical experience.
The College of Medicine maintains a balanced curriculum of essential didactic lecture material and the application of principles developed from the combination of lectures and diligent study. The basic science program of fundamental essentials of health and disease is stressed in the pre-clinical years. Following proof of proficiency in the basic medical sciences, junior and senior students embark on the clinical years which are devoted to further instruction plus actual clinical experience. The facilities for clinical instruction include a comprehensive program of in-patient instruction obtained primarily within the University staffed hospitals, the diagnosis and treatment of outpatients, and a home care program which enables students to experience the problems and rewards of the "family doctor."

The College of Dentistry was founded in Nashville in 1878. The work of the College was moved from Nashville to Memphis in 1910 and became the University of Memphis College of Dental Surgery. In 1911 when the University of Tennessee moved its medical units to Memphis in order to secure larger facilities for the clinical work, the authorities of the University of Memphis transferred to the Board of Trustees of the University of Tennessee all of its equipment and the good will of its Dental Department. The College of Dentistry occupied the old Rogers Hall from 1919 to 1949. In 1949 the College moved to its modern building at 847 Monroe.
The College of Dentistry is organized into pre-clinical and clinical training. The freshman and sophomore courses are devoted largely to instruction in the basic biological sciences. Operative dentistry, complete denture technic; crown, bridge, and partial denture technic; prophylactic technic; orthodontics; radiology; anesthesiac and exodontia, are added to the preclinical with a view to preparing the student for the practical work on patients which begins with the junior course. During the junior course instruction special emphasis is placed on the more difficult operations in these various branches of dentistry. About half of the junior student's time is given to practical work upon the patient. In the senior course most of the work is devoted to practical application of the principles taught in preventive, curative and restorative dentistry. All of the practical work done in the junior and senior courses is under the supervision of experts in the various branches of dentistry.

The University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy had its beginning as a part of the University of Tennessee Department of Chemistry in Knoxville. The School of Pharmacy, as it was then titled, was moved to Nashville and again moved to Memphis and made part of the newly formed Medical Units in 1911. Since then the School of Pharmacy has become a fully accredited College of Pharmacy and ranks as one of the largest Colleges of Pharmacy in the United States. The College has progressed from being little more than a trade school where basic techniques were taught to a highly developed research minded institution.
Students entering the College of Pharmacy now must have six quarters of pre work in a liberal arts college. The first three quarters of pharmacy are devoted to learning of basic technique and the basic medical sciences. The beginning of the junior year signifies the beginning of the equivalent of clinical studies. Juniors and seniors take such advanced courses as dispensing, hospital pharmacy, manufacturing pharmacy, and pharmaceutical jurisprudence.

For those wishing to enter into post graduate education senior elective courses such as radio-isotopes, parenteral products, and cosmetology are offered.

The University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy now has one of the largest faculties of any College of Pharmacy with twenty-five staff members holding fifty-seven degrees from twenty-eight different Universities. To improve its present facilities for student training the College is devoting large amounts of space in the new Dental-Pharmacy Research Building.

The School of Nursing had its origin in 1898 in the Training School of the Memphis General Hospital. In 1926 the University of Tennessee School of Nursing came into being through a contractual arrangement between the University and the Memphis General Hospital. The School became a self-governing unit within the University in 1949 and the program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing was established in 1950. In 1958 a program was inaugurated in which the students were required to spend one year in pre-nursing work in a liberal arts college. In 1961 the school became the College of Nursing. The College of Nursing is approved by the Tennessee Board of Nursing and has full National Accreditation for generic and general nursing programs.
A girl after graduating from high school who wants to enter the University of Tennessee College of Nursing must first successfully complete the pre-nursing requirements at some university or college. When this is done, she is ready to enter her sophomore year in nursing at the Medical Units in Memphis. During her sophomore and junior years in addition to her courses at the University of Tennessee, she is required to take a designated number of hours of liberal arts work at Memphis State University. In fulfilling her nursing requirements at the College of Nursing, she strives to give comprehensive nursing care which includes learning and applying theory and principles to patient care. It involves meeting the patient's physical needs as well as understanding his psychological needs. Upon graduating, the student nurse receives a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing.

The School of Basic Medical Sciences was organized in 1928 as the School of Biological Sciences. In the various departments of the school all students of the several professional schools and colleges which comprise the Medical Units of the University receive their basic science instruction.
It is the responsibility of the faculty of the School of Basic Medical Sciences to provide the preclinical instruction to students in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and nursing. The faculty of this school is constituted of full-time professional teachers and investigators and most are also members of the faculty of The Graduate School—Medical Sciences. These men and women are dedicated to providing the highest quality education basic to the health professions that time, funds, space and equipment allow. Collectively, they offer in addition to clinics, seminars, graduate courses, etc., over ten thousand, five hundred clock hours of undergraduate instruction each year.

From 1928 to 1960 graduate training in the basic medical sciences was an important objective of The School of Biological Sciences (now The School of Basic Medical Sciences). Operating under the regulations of The Graduate School, it successfully offered opportunities to young men and women to pursue careers as teacher-investigators in the fields of anatomy, biochemistry, pathology, microbiology, pharmacology, and physiology.

Graduate education and research training at The Medical Units has had a notable past; registration has about doubled each decade from 1932 to 1952 and is presently approaching 100. Some 90 advanced degrees have been awarded, twenty of these being Ph.D.'s. Dollar volume of support for research and research training in the basic sciences has risen from less than $100,000 in 1942 to more than $1,250,000 currently.
In January 1960 the growing size and importance of the graduate program was recognized with the establishment of a Graduate Medical Sciences Council and the appointment of an Associate Dean of The Graduate School, to represent The Graduate School at the Medical Units.

As for the future, we can confidently look forward to carefully planned growth and expansion in all areas of graduate training at the Medical Units. Two new programs leading to the M.S. degree have been authorized by the Council this year, one in Pharmaceutical and Medicinal Chemistry and one in Pharmacognosy. A recent study of the Nation's needs has projected a three-fold expansion of effort in research and research training in health-related fields in the next decade; The Graduate School—Medical Sciences will strive to meet this challenge.
Evidence of the presence of professional fraternities can readily be observed over the campus throughout all phases of the school year. Social functions would be almost nil without fraternity functions. Participation by the orders in intramural sports results in many a heated contest. Another valuable service of the fraternities is in providing living quarters for many students. There are four medical fraternities: Alpha Epsilon Iota, Alpha Kappa Kappa, Phi Chi, and Phi Rho Sigma; three dental fraternities: Delta Sigma Delta, Psi Omega, and Xi Psi Phi; three pharmacy fraternities: Kappa Pi, Lambda Kappa Sigma, and Phi Delta Chi.
Someday I'll see a patient...

Alpha Epsilon Iota, national women's medical fraternity, was founded February 28, 1890 at the University of Michigan College of Medicine. The local chapter, Omega, was established September 28, 1940. Officers for 1962-63 are President, Ann Morton; Vice-President, JoAnne Sivadon; Secretary-Treasurer, Ann Culpepper. Chapter sponsor is Dr. Alys Lipscomb.

The purpose of the fraternity is to promote good fellowship, a high order of scholarship, and professional achievement; and to serve to bring the woman medical student and practicing physician into closer relationship.

During the past year we have obtained a room in the Medical-Surgical Annex which we have remodeled into a fraternity lounge. We have just completed a drive to reactivate our 110 alumni members, with an enthusiastic response.

Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity was founded September 29, 1888, at Dartmouth Medical School in Hanover, New Hampshire. Today it has 38 chapters in most of the important medical centers throughout the United States and Canada.

Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa was organized March 24, 1903, and is the oldest medical fraternity on the U.T. campus.

Concurrent with the growth of U.T. at Memphis our fraternity has flourished and has achieved many honors. Outstanding among these achievements is the winning of a scholarship plaque three consecutive quarters during 1961-62.

AKK has proven its ability in athletics as evidenced by its records in tennis and basketball. Equally successful on the social scene are the well attended rush parties given each quarter.

AKK also has an active alumni of over 100 at U.T. many of whom are staff members. We are especially proud of Dr. Clyde Crowell, an alumnus and district deputy of Omega Chapter, who recently became Grand Historian of Alpha Kappa Kappa International. We are presently making plans for our alumni banquet and dance at which our sweetheart, Mrs. Johnnie Sue Ross, will be presented.

Delta Sigma Delta

In November of 1882 Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity was founded at the University of Michigan. The present Kappa Kappa Chapter at the University of Tennessee was established on May 27, 1921 after closing of the Dental School at Vanderbilt University. Since the founding of Delta Sigma Delta to the present day, the fraternity has grown internationally with chapters located at dental teaching institutions throughout the world.

The members and Alumni of Delta Sigma Delta regard the fraternity as a standard in dentistry, one which strives to create a better dentist, and one which adds strength and prestige to the profession.

Delta Sigma at the University have always been proud of their scholastic records. At the present time we hold the scholarship trophy which was presented to us after attaining for three consecutive quarters the highest scholastic average in the Dental School. We are also proud of our Alumni who are leaders in our National, state and local societies and associations. Our past speaks for itself; the voice of the future shall echo greatness to come.

Kappa Psi

The first professional fraternity of the professional fraternity, Kappa Psi, was founded at Russell Military Academy, New Haven, Connecticut, on May 30, 1879. Since that time Kappa Psi has steadily progressed in its present strength of forty-eight active collegiate chapters and twenty-five active graduate chapters with more than 50,000 members.

Psi Chapter was expanded in Memphis in 1915. After a slow but steady increase in membership, Psi chapter moved to its present location at 342 South Pine Street, and since has become the largest fraternity on the U.T. campus. Psi chapter takes pride in saying that it initiated more than twenty-nine new members this year which makes among the top in all the Kappa Psi chapters in the nation.

Kappa Psi takes pride in its fraternity house which is oak and pine panelled throughout. The recently remodelled banquet room is the envy of the entire campus and is the site of the many and famous Kappa Psi parties.

Kappa Psi has a well-known campus leader, holding down offices in classes as well as in the other various organizations on the campus. We are especially proud of one of our graduating seniors, Brother Richard F. Hawkins, who served as President of the All-Student Council last year. Psi chapter is always a competitor in the intramural athletic league participating in all intramural contests. Our chapter is especially fortunate to have such fine supervision from our faculty members, J. E. Heberline, our Grand Council Deputy, and William Swafford, Chairman of President VIII of Kappa Psi.

All quiet on the home front.

Lambda Kappa Sigma, the oldest and largest international pharmaceutical sorority, was founded at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy on October 14, 1913. Today there are 34 active chapters in the United States and Canada and 15 graduate chapters.

The present chapter of Lambda Kappa Sigma on the University of Tennessee Medical Unit campus, Alpha Epsilon Chapter, had its beginning in the “Mortar and Pestle Club” which was formed here in January of 1919. The ultimate goal of this organization was to become affiliated with the national sorority. This hope was realized when, on May 18, 1951, the group received its charter as Alpha Epsilon Chapter.

Always active in campus organizations and activities, L.K.S. has had an especially outstanding year.

In scholastic achievements Lambda Kappa Sigma is particularly proud of its members. As evidence of this, we can boast of being first on campus this year in the fraternity competition for scholastic rating.

Although a relative newcomer in athletic activities, Lambda Kappa Sigma is rapidly rising to the top. One basketball team, the Pharmacists, sponsored by the Memphis Retail Druggists Association and coached by our sponsor, Dr. Haberle, was undefeated this season and won the Mid South and Bluff City Championships.

Other activities of the sorority on campus include the annual gift of toys to children at Frank Tobey Hospital at Christmas, and the sorority’s winter dance, a gala affair.

As Lambda Kappa Sigma continues to grow and to rise in leadership, its members always keep uppermost in their minds the primary purpose of the sorority: to further the position of women in the profession of pharmacy. Those who guided us in our aims, our sponsors for this year, are Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Haberle, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Swafford, to whom we are very grateful.

Lambda Kappa Sigma
The Phi Chi Medical Fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont on March 21, 1889. It has grown to become the largest medical fraternity in the world with 58 chapters spread over the world. At present there are 42,500 members.

Alpha Beta chapter was founded here in 1913, and was officially installed April 4, 1919. Alpha Beta chapter is the largest chapter of the largest medical fraternity in the world. At present membership is 368, of which about 60 live in the house.

Past principle officers are: Madison Buckley, Jr., President Senior; Robert Fisher, President Junior; Lake Wayne, Secretary; Jim Craig, Treasurer; Bill Warrnath, House Manager. Newly elected officers for this year are: Jim Craig, President Senior; Colton Hay, President Junior; David Cow, Treasurer; Leonard Hines, Secretary; Mickey Norman, House Manager.

Phi Chi is the social hub of the campus and is widely known for the number and excellence of its parties. We have a large ballroom which is used for our parties and social purposes. We have two fraternity parties quarterly, one of which is fraternity rush. Usually there is a dance party or private party in the ballroom weekly. Our social climax of the year is the Founder’s Day Banquet and Dance each February with the presentation of fraternity awards and the chapter’s sweetheart. This year the newly selected sweetheart is Mrs. Patricia Storrs.

We have won the grand intramural trophy ten out of the last thirteen years and are the grand champions for 1960-61 and 1961-62.

The Phi Delta Chi Fraternity was founded on November 2, 1935, at the University of Michigan. Eleven men were gathered here to effect an organization to advance the science of pharmacy and to foster and promote a fraternal spirit among its members. From this beginning, the Fraternity has grown to a present total of forty active chapters, serving the major colleges of pharmacy in the United States.

The Georgia Chapter, the twenty-fourth chapter of Phi Delta Chi, was founded in 1922 at the University of Tennessee at Memphis by Dr. E. L. Cross, then at the School of Pharmacy at the time and later Grand President of Phi Delta Chi, was instrumental in founding the chapter.

It is with great pride that we of Phi Delta Chi look at the past record of this fraternity. Scholarship has always played an important part in the life of this group. Members of this group held important offices in the Student Branch of the A.Ph.A., Phi Chi and Student Council. Phi Delta Chi has a very strong inter-collegiate program, ranking high among its competitors.

Great leaders of all pharmaceutical endeavors since 1935 have been grounded in the valuable lessons of Phi Delta Chi Fraternity democracy. There has been found to be no substitute for this training. It is the "grass root" of our total pharmacist. Individual chapters and their adherence to great and dynamic fraternal principles for the promotion of the profession make us strong. Cohesive efforts of our forty chapters make us a great and forward force in the American Pharmacy of today.

An eye for an eye.

Phi Rho Sigma

Phi Rho Sigma international medical fraternity was founded at Northwestern University in 1890. It has since grown to 23 undergraduate and 20 alumni chapters with approximately 2,000 and 20,000 members respectively. Chi Epsilon Chapter of Phi Rho Sigma was founded as Lambda chapter of Chi Zeta fraternity at the University of Tennessee in 1896. The two fraternities merged in 1929 under the present name.

A professional fraternity with a program aimed at professional advancement of its members and service to the school, profession and community, Phi Rho Sigma also sponsors a regular social program. A new, modern chapter house, completed only this year, is the site of many fraternity and social functions, as well as providing living quarters within walking distance of school for 32 men.

Psi Omega is a group of men in the profession who, because of congeniality and libervs on professional matters, have associated themselves to advance in the study and practice of their profession.

At the present time there are 36 school chapters and 47 alumni chapters. Psi Omega is the largest Greek Letter Dental Fraternity in the world. There have been initiated into Psi Omega over 32,000 members, since its organization in 1892.

Psi Gamma Chapter, founded in 1926 at the University of Tennessee Medical Units is the largest Dental Fraternity on campus. The chapter is noted for its leadership on campus, scholarship, rush parties, senior parties and "spontaneous" get togethers in the Pine Room.

This year finds us ending one era at 1234 Union and beginning a new one as we move into our modern new fraternity house on Court. We feel that our new living quarters will further enable us to continue our position of leadership here at U.T.

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Xi Psi Phi received its charter March 26, 1921. It remained an active chapter till the outbreak of World War II. At this time it became inactive, and remained so until November 15, 1947, when it became reactivated. Since this time the members of Alpha Omicron have been active in all the activities sponsored by the Universities of Tennessee. Xi Psi Phi is not only a national fraternity but an international fraternity as well.

Athletics

In one of the closest intramural races in years, which was in doubt until the final event, Phi Chi won the 1961-62 Intramural Championship by twenty points. Kappa Psi finished third.

In the year’s team events Phi Rho Sigma won the volleyball tournament and the basketball league. Xi Psi Phi were the winner of a fantastic softball scramble in which a five way tie for first existed at the league’s end. The swimming meet was won by Phi Chi, the golf tournament by Delta Sigma Delta and the bowling tournament by Kappa Psi.

The Pharmacists climaxed an undefeated season by winning the Mid-South "B" Tournament championship. Judy Robison was named most valuable player of the tournament. The nurses competed with other schools throughout the south and finished fifth in the Cotton States Nurses Tourney. The nurses won the '61 women's volleyball league and repeated as champions in the '61 women's softball program. Ronnae Dettmar won table tennis tourney.
Included at the University of Tennessee Medical Units are various organizations with many purposes. Several of the Colleges have honorary societies which have been formed to honor those who are qualified according to scholarship, promotion of professional ethics, leadership, etc. Also included are those organizations designed as governing bodies such as Student Councils of the colleges and the entire Medical Units. Spiritual guidance is also available and encouraged by various organizations. Not all of the organizations are composed of students but are carried on by the dental, pharmacy and medical student’s wives.
Alpha Omega Alpha

Alpha Omega Alpha is a non-secret college medical honor society, membership to which is based entirely upon SCHOLARSHIP, moral qualifications being satisfactory. It was organized at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, Chicago, August 23, 1902, and it is the only order of its kind in medical schools on this continent. Its definite mission is to encourage personal honesty and the spirit of medical research.

The Tennessee chapter elects members early in the spring quarter and holds its initiation banquet in June of every year. An effort is made at that time to obtain a speaker to give a talk on some medical or non-medical topic which is of current interest.

Occasionally a deserving alumnus of the University is elected to membership. Recently Alva Bowen Weir, Jr., was elected as the Distinguished Alumna Member. Efforts are being made to expand the activity and influence of AOA in the life of the medical units, particularly in the fields of scholarship and medical research.

Omnion Kappa Upsilon

Omnion Kappa Upsilon is a society of dentists whose purpose is as stated in the preamble of the society's first constitution. "To encourage and develop a spirit of those who shall distinguish themselves by high grade of scholarship."

The society was organized in 1914 at Northwestern University Dental School. The official insignia adopted in 1912 embodies the spirit of the society. The insignia is a key with the letters, O (Omnion), K (Kappa), and U (Upsilon) by the Greek letter Σ (Sigma). The first three initials, which indicate the name of this society, are derived from three Greek words: Omnikos (wealth), Kai (and), and Hygios (Health). The encircling letter Σ (Sigma) derives from the Greek word σωτηρία (conservation or preservation), and represents the all-embracing ideal of conservation which is the chief concern of the dental profession and its oral health service.

There are 45 chapters with approximately 9,500 members. The chapter was founded May 15, 1920, and now has a membership of 114. Its charter members were R. V. V. Vorm, R. D. Davis, C. P. Harris, J. F. Bigge, W. E. Lundi, L. J. McRae, J. J. Ogden, J. H. Tannery, and W. J. Templeton.

Election to the society is not only a recognition of accomplishment as a student, but also an inspiration of both prestige and expectancy of leadership in dentistry after graduation.
The R. D. Dean Odontological Society was founded at the University of Tennessee on December 6, 1986. It is an honorary society for undergraduate students in the College of Dentistry. It was named by its founders to honor Dr. Richard Doggett Dean, former Dean of the College of Dentistry and his wife, Dr. Margaret Taylor Dean, former associate professor of Oral Pathology. Its membership consists of outstanding junior and senior students who are selected by a combined Faculty-Student Election Committee.

The purpose of the society is to propagate and perpetuate professional ideals and ethics; to exert its influence unceasingly for the advancement of the dental profession in methods of teaching, practice and jurisprudence; to elevate and sustain the professional character and education of dentists; to promote among them mutual improvement and good will; and to disseminate knowledge of dentistry and dental discoveries.

The Alpha Nu Chapter of Rho Chi, national honorary pharmaceutical society, was established at the University of Tennessee in 1948. Eligibility for membership in the society is based on high attainment in scholarship, character, personality, and leadership. All candidates selected for membership must have completed the eighth quarter of the curriculum of the College of Pharmacy.

The fundamental objective of Rho Chi has always been to promote the advancement of the pharmaceutical sciences through the encouragement and recognition of intellectual scholarship. To attain this end, high standards of scholarship have been demanded for election to membership with the view that scholarly attainment indicates the capacity of the individual for outstanding achievement in pharmacy. Experience has shown that the reward of election to membership symbolized by the award of the Rho Chi Key, supplies a scholarship incentive unequalled by any other rewards such as prizes or medals.
The Student Council of the University of Tennessee College of Nursing is composed of student body officers and a representative from each class. The Council members are elected for a term of one year. This group serves a student-conceived constitution and acts as a mediating body between the faculty and students. Two faculty members act in an advisory capacity in guiding the activities of the student body.

This year the House Council revised the house rules and a new budget was set up. The student body sponsored a project during the Christmas Holidays which proved very successful. Needy families were chosen as recipients of clothes, toys, and food which were donated and distributed by a student committee. The U.T. Volunteers, the basketball team, placed fifth in the Cotton States Nurses' Invitational Tournament which attracted fifteen teams from the Mid-South area. The annual Spring Party was a formal dance-dinner held at the University Club. Plans are under way for placing the College on the honor system.

The Student Council is composed of the four officers of the student body and the presidents of each quarter's class in Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Nursing, Dental Hygiene, and Medical Technology and delegates from other representative organizations on the campus.

The officers of the Student Council are elected in a general election of the student body and serve for one year. The offices of President, Vice President and Secretary are rotated yearly between the Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Pharmacy, and the Secretary is nominated from the College of Nursing.

The purpose of the Student Council is to promote the activities of the student life in the University, to serve as a center for such activities, to promote the best interests of the student, and to act as a liaison between the students and the faculty and administration. The Council spends much of its time in dealing with various problems the students may have.

During the past few months there have been spirited efforts to organize a chapter of S.A.M.A. here at U.T. These efforts have paid off, and our chapter now boasts some 159 members—representing more than one fourth of the student body as of May 1902. We are also fortunate in having the regional six meeting of S.A.M.A. scheduled here in November of this year with U.T. as the host chapter.

At the National meeting held in Washington, D.C., on May 9-13 the U.T. delegates were fortunate in winning a $500.00 scholarship for their University and also in placing our chapter president on the National Nominating Committee.

The ground work for a fine chapter here has been constructed. It is now up to the students and administration to continue and further the work of S.A.M.A. here.
The University of Tennessee Chapter of the Student American Dental Association was organized in November, 1955, at the request of the Tennessee State Dental Association. Since 1955, it has made tremendous strides in becoming the largest student chapter in the country.

The organization is governed by a board of directors consisting of twelve men, each selected by his class, and four officers, elected by the entire membership of the organization.

The purpose of the Student A.D.A. is to broaden the education and knowledge of the student by furnishing monthly to each member the Journal of the American Dental Association, and by bringing nationally recognized researchers and specialists in the dental field to the University for clinical lectures.

The Student A.D.A. also acts as a medium by which the student is able to establish contact with the organized programs of the profession during the period he is receiving his education.
The Student Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association was established in 1948 at the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy. Its objective is to broaden the education and knowledge of the student by furnishing monthly to each member the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association and by bringing well-known speakers in the field of Pharmacy to the University for lectures. It also functions as a medium whereby the student is able to establish contact with the organized program of the profession during the period he is receiving his education.

For the first time in the history of the organization, every student in the College of Pharmacy is a member. The Student Branch is also very proud of its first publication of "The Graduate."

The purpose of the Junior Medical Auxiliary is three-fold: to provide fellowship for the wives of medical students; to prepare them for the future role as physicians' wives; and to render service to the College and the community.

Programs varying from the physician and medicine as portrayed in art to a winter fashion show have been on the agenda this year.

At Christmas there was a contest to select the most originally wrapped gift, after which all the presents were packed into baskets along with food and clothing and delivered to needy families.

An emergency loan fund was begun this year by the sale of World's Finest Chocolate bars.

New brides and first quarter wives are welcomed at a tea at the beginning of each quarter, and a special luncheon honoring wives of graduating students is held at the end of the quarter.

The J.M.A. is especially proud of the fact that it is the largest auxiliary in the United States.

The Junior Dental Auxiliary was founded several years ago by a small group of dental students' wives. A constitution was adopted, officers were elected and various committees were formed. The Auxiliary's purpose is "to promote friendship and good will among its members, and to serve as a medium for broadening their interests."

The Auxiliary's regular activities include supplying the Porter Leath Orphanage with toothpaste and providing transportation for the children to and from their dental appointments. An additional project this year was a Christmas party for the children.

At the beginning of each quarter the first quarter dental student's wives are welcomed by a reception in their honor. At the end of each quarter a luncheon is given in honor of the Class of the previous quarter, at which time an honorary diploma is awarded to each wife.

The Junior Dental Auxiliary's approximately ninety active members enjoy the many worthwhile projects as well as social functions, but most rewarding is the knowledge that we have contributed in some small way to the fulfillment of our husband's ambitions.

The Junior Pharmacy Auxiliary was organized in the year of 1951 as a means to promote friendship and fellowship among the wives of the Pharmacy students of the University of Tennessee.

The Auxiliary members share beautiful memories as they look back over the past year of fellowship at picnics with the husbands, Christmas parties with Santa Claus and wide-eyed kiddies and, of course, the Senior Luncheon with the presentation of the much coveted degree of P.H.T. (Pushing Hubby Through).

The Baptist Student Union is more than a social fellowship. It is a movement through which the student anchors himself to the church in such a manner that worship maintains itself in his life as a force rather than a form. Intellectual programs are presented in order to meet the spiritual needs of every Baptist student while he pursues his graduate studies in the Medical Center. An imperative for each of us is to know Him—then to make Him known.

St. Augustine summed up the ethical teaching of Christianity by saying “Love God and do what you like.” And to this day there are those who are shocked by this pronouncement because they think it is a free permit to unrestrained self-indulgence. To commit oneself to God is to have in essence the same idea and dislike that God has. The spontaneity of the man under grace must not be confused with the lawlessness of the natural man. Both the natural man and the Christian do what comes naturally. But the one does what is natural to his unregenerate character, the other what is natural to a character transformed and purified by the love of God.
The KOINONIA IS composed of a group of Christians situated in the Medical Center. A Greek word, Koinonia, describes the fellowship and communion which were a vital part of the early church. It is our belief that it symbolizes a most vital aspect of the religion of Jesus Christ. Through group worship, Bible study, and discussion, we seek increased insight into Biblical truth and its implications for the healing professions. All Christians are invited to share our fellowship.

Non-denominational devotional services are held each Tuesday, from 12:25 to 12:50 in the University Center. The "Koinonia Newsletter" is mailed regularly to approximately 250 persons.

An illustrated lecture series, "Archaeology and the Bible," was presented spring quarter. Dr. Jack Lewis from the Harding Graduate School of Bible and Religion in Memphis was the speaker. A banquet climax the week of lectures.

Plans for a new Christian Student Center are in the formative stages at this time. Interested Christians in the medical professions have expressed a desire to help make this dream a reality for the Koinonia group and a committee is working toward that end.

The students who prepared devotions during the past year were: Ken Winton, Colleen Tunnan, Eddie Vargo, Claudia Sawmaker, E. C. Tolbert, Dr. Bob Enkernan, and Gladys Siscoe. Robert Riggs, associate minister for the Union Avenue Church of Christ, serves as counselor for the group.

The Spring Banquet was a major activity of the group.

We, the staff of the 1962 Asklepieion, wish to present this synopsis of the growth and development of the Medical Units during the past year. We sincerely hope that each member of each school can see his place in this great center of learning.

We have strived to depict how the entire Medical Units is making footprints which will lead to more advanced medical techniques.

May we thank each individual who has worked with us in preparing the book for you. Our special thanks go to our advisor Jim Stockdale, Mr. Bill Benson of the Benson Printing Company, and Masters Lee and Eddie Cooper, our photographers. Without their help and cooperation the publishing of our Asklepieion would have been quite difficult.
