And the Lord said unto Moses,
Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he looketh upon it, shall live.
Memphis on the Mississippi is reminiscent of another day at Memphis on the Nile. There men gathered at the Asklepieion for the study and practice of the healing arts. This temple, named by the Greeks, was erected in honor of the famous Egyptian physician, Imhotep.

To all who come to this Medical Center in Memphis, Tennessee, we dedicate our Asklepieion.
For an instant our world was cells, electrons, impulses on a nerve...
... energy forming thoughts, thoughts asking questions, and after long hours of study—understanding.
There were the hours of "re-creation," too, when we could relax tense muscles and look at the world from the perspective of a softball diamond or the Bamboo Room.
At first frightened and apprehensive, we soon realized that with application of knowledge and polishing of technique, we eventually gained confidence in our skills.
And thus we learned.
"Life is short, the art long, experience difficult."
It has been a long-accepted philosophy in our Nation that the level of higher learning to which any citizen may aspire is limited only by the individual's capacity to learn. You, who are embarking upon your current program of learning, are the fortunate ones in the health professions and allied fields. As the various colleges have had such opportunity, I commend you for having reached your present levels of attainment and with all the help you can receive in the realization of whatever goals you have set. At the same time, I implore you to interest yourselves in return of greatest importance.

In contrast to the general philosophy expressed above, the ability of institutions to provide the opportunities in higher learning is necessarily limited by financial resources available to them and to the individual.

The time is near when demands on the institutions caused by increased numbers of students will outstrip their capacities to meet them. They must rely largely on tax increases and student fees for support. By the same token, the field of education for the individual, particularly in the fields of education for the health professions, can have the effect of limiting these opportunities to young men and women coming from families in the higher income brackets. This, of course, must not be permitted to happen.

As you enter your chosen careers, therefore, I appeal to you to keep the University in mind, and as alumni, to do all possible to support it in any particular part of it. This can be done by your direct financial contributions or by encouraging patients, friends, or acquaintances to do so. Funds are needed and will continue to be needed to maintain the very highest levels of learning in the fields of higher education for the individual, particularly in the fields of education for the health professions, and to encourage participation in guided study to the highest levels of learning. Funds also are needed and will continue to be needed to assist many students well qualified and worthy to the same goals that you yourself have set.

As you leave this institution, I would encourage you also to keep in mind that you are entering dynamic fields in which change is constantly occurring. The more fact that you have completed a formal phase of your education, the more your interest in the completion of your education. The Medical Units particularly in providing more and more educational opportunities for continuing education in order that the basic health professions can provide adequate care. In my hope that you may be seen frequently by the campus participating in such continuing education programs. These also will need your support, and your participation in them will provide that support.

Again, let me wish you the greatest success in whatever you undertake.

The College of Medicine was founded in 1876 in Nashville, transferred to Memphis in 1911, and during the past fifty-three years has grown to become one of the nation’s larger medical centers. The College of Medicine maintains a balanced curriculum with sufficient flexibility to train and graduate students in the medical profession as family doctors, specialists, research fellows, and instructors in medical colleges. Pre-clinical studies through lectures and laboratory courses in anatomy, bio-chemistry, physiology, microbiology, pharmacology, and pathology provide fundamental knowledge of health and disease. Clinical years are spent in the continuation and application of study in the out-patient clinics and within the university staffed hospitals and laboratories. Increasing opportunities are becoming available for those students who are interested in research. New students entering the college also benefit by a completely new curriculum which has been designed to keep pace with the ever-broadening field of modern medicine.

But how else does she expect me to deliver her baby??

How was your doc, Gil?

It's all right, guys, the fire's out!!

You'll have to do a c-section, won't you?

What test?

I've told him, over and over that this was no ice bucket.

Typical conservatives.

Do you think they know we're here?

We told him time and again that this was no ice bucket!
College of Dentistry

The College of Dentistry of the University of Tennessee was established in Knoxville in 1878. In 1911 it moved to Memphis where it absorbed the University of Memphis College of Dental Surgery (founded in 1910). It is the oldest dental college in the South and the third-oldest now in operation in the nation.

The four-quarter system in operation at the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry is unique in that Tennessee has the only dental school operating under the plan of accepting and graduating a class each quarter.

The curriculum is divided into two phases, pre-clinical and clinical work. In the beginning years, the student studies basic medical sciences and courses in dental anatomy. Technique courses are added to the curriculum as the student progresses. During this period he becomes familiar with the various phases of operative dentistry, crown and bridge, and denture prosthodontics.

The clinical years are spent applying the knowledge learned in the restoration of the oral cavity. The student develops a working knowledge of all phases of dentistry by working under the supervision of qualified instructors in the various fields, which include surgery, periodontics, pedodontics, diagnosis, operative dentistry, crown and bridge prosthodontics, and dentistry for the chronically ill.

College of Pharmacy

The University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy was founded in 1898 as a part of the University of Tennessee Department of Chemistry in Knoxville. The School of Pharmacy, as it was then known, was moved to Nashville in 1909 and to Memphis in 1911 where it was operated as a separate school in the newly founded Medical Units.

Since then, the College of Pharmacy has become fully accredited and ranks as one of the largest Colleges of Pharmacy in the United States.

Recently, the curriculum has been revised and updated to enable the student to pursue work toward Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in the various areas of Pharmaceutical Science. These areas include Pharmacaceutics, Pharmacognosy, and Pharmaceutical and Medicinal Chemistry. Also, a program with several Memphis hospitals has greatly strengthened the instruction in Hospital Pharmacy.

The use of the latest scientific equipment, the employment of new techniques, and the instruction of highly selected and trained faculty members has enabled the graduates of the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy to become a credit to their profession.

College of Nursing

In 1898 the Training School of the Memphis General Hospital was established. By an arrangement between the University of Tennessee and the Memphis General Hospital, the University of Tennessee School of Nursing was created in 1926. The school became an autonomous unit within the University in 1949, and the following year the program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing was inaugurated. In 1961 the name was changed to College of Nursing.

The curriculum, which combines liberal arts with nursing education on the baccalaureate level, enables the student to make an optimum contribution to the total health program. Graduates are prepared to assume professional responsibility for promotion of health and prevention of disease, and for nursing diagnosis, therapy, and rehabilitation. They are provided a foundation to go on for Master’s and Doctoral study in Nursing.

School of Basic Medical Sciences

The School of Biological Sciences was established in 1928 with Dr. T. P. Nash, Jr., as dean. The School was organized to coordinate the teaching of the basic sciences of the health services, and to offer graduate instruction leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in the basic biological sciences. In 1950, graduate study was organized under an associate dean and a Graduate Medical Sciences Council. The School then became known as the School of Basic Medical Sciences. This School has the responsibility of providing the foundation for the students in the Medical Units whatever their major professional goal. It is also responsible for the instructional programs of the people in the para-medical fields of medical technology, cytology, clinical microbiology, histological technique, and physicians' office assistant.

Graduate School—Medical Sciences

There is little doubt but that the mid-twentieth century will be recorded in history as the Age of Science. It will also be recorded that following the devastations of the Second World War leadership in basic research shifted from Europe to the United States. During this past quarter-century there has developed in this country an alliance between government, universities, and the scientific community of scholars that has contributed to this leadership and has brought the utilization of science for human welfare and enlightenment to a level never before attained.

The Graduate School has participated actively in this process. Each year of the past twenty-five has seen research and research training make notable advances at the Medical Units and it shall continue to strive for planned growth and excellence in the years ahead.
Alpha Epsilon Iota

In January, 1963, Alpha Epsilon Iota, National Medical Women's Fraternity, was officially dissolved. Local chapters were invited to continue using the same A.E.I. as they wished. The women medical students of U.T. decided to use this name only until we could affiliate with another national group, feeling that national ties are necessary for the growth and success of a small local group such as we are. We are privileged to say that plans are almost completed for our affiliation with The American Medical Women's Association, a national organization, similar to The American Medical Association, whose membership is limited to women physicians and women medical students.

Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity was founded September 29, 1888, at Dartmouth Medical School in Hanover, New Hampshire. It has grown from this beginning until it now has thirty-two chapters in the United States and Canada. The Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa was organized on the University of Tennessee College of Medicine campus on March 24, 1903. This makes the Omega Chapter the tenth oldest chapter of AKK and the oldest medical fraternity at the University of Tennessee. Since moving into its new house at 747 Court, Alpha Kappa Kappa has continued to provide the medical students with convenient and comfortable living accommodations as well as various social and recreational facilities. In addition to the impromptu social gatherings at the AKK Fraternity House, AKK gives a rush party each semester at one of the downtown Memphis hotels.

Delta Sigma Delta

In November of 1882 Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity was founded at the University of Michigan. The present Kappa Kappa Chapter at the University of Tennessee was established on May 27, 2021, after closure of the Dental School at Vanderbilt University. Since the founding of Delta Sigma Delta to the present day, the fraternity has grown internationally with the chapters located at dental teaching institutions throughout the world.

The members and alumni of Delta Sigma Delta regard the fraternity as a standard in dentistry, one which strives to create a better dentist, and one which adds strength and prestige to the profession.

Delta Sig at the University have always been proud of their scholastic records. As at present time we hold the scholarship trophy which was presented us after attaining the highest scholastic average in the Dental School.

Kappa Psi

Kappa Psi, the oldest and largest pharmacy fraternity, was founded at Russell Military Academy, New Haven, Connecticut, on May 30, 1879. Thriving on brotherhood and good will, Kappa Psi steadily grew to its present strength of more than fifty active undergraduate chapters and twenty-two active graduate chapters with more than 50,000 members.

Psi Chapter was organized at the University of Tennessee in Memphis in 1913. It increased steadily in membership to its present strength of 102 active members. Psi Chapter is the largest pharmacy fraternity chapter at the University of Tennessee and is the second-largest chapter in the fraternity. Kappa Psi has enjoyed a successful year under the able leadership of officers: Melvin Wilson, Regent; Whit Taylor, Vice-Regent; Ralph Mink, Secretary; Charles Taylor, Treasurer; Jerry White, House Manager; Bunny Orr, Sgt-at-Arms; Gene Blankenship, Chaplain; and Bill Miller, Historian.

Lambda Kappa Sigma

Lambda Kappa Sigma, the oldest and largest international pharmaceutical sorority, was founded at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy on October 14, 1913. Today there are 39 active chapters and 18 graduate chapters. Alpha Epsilon chapter, at the University of Tennessee, received its charter on May 18, 1951.

Our social activities for this year have included a fall picnic, a bridge rush party, and a banquet at the Villa in honor of new officers.

We recently initiated eleven new members, of which we are very proud.

Throughout the year the activities of the sorority have centered around our national convention. It was held June 21-23, 1964, at the Hotel Peabody, with our chapter as hostess. Members and alumnae from Lambda Kappa Sigma chapters throughout the United States and Canada were represented and participated in the activities.

The Phi Chi Medical Fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont on March 31, 1889. It has grown to become the largest medical fraternity in the world with 58 chapters spread over the world. At present there are over 45,000 members. Alpha Beta Chapter was founded here at U.T. in 1913, and was officially installed April 4, 1913. In 1906, the Alumni Association purchased our house which is located at 216 N. Waldran. We at Alpha Beta are the largest chapter of the largest medical fraternity in the world. At this time our membership is 183, of which 61 live in the house. Presiding officers are: Charles E. Couch, President Senior; Elmo D. Orment, Jr., President Junior; James C. Mahoney, Secretary; Julian B. Litchford, Treasurer; Homer D. Hickey, Judge Advocate; and Frank D. Sutton, House Manager. Here at Phi Chi, opportunities for academic accomplishment as well as rounded social activities are available to all members.

The Phi Delta Chi Fraternity was founded on November 1, 1883, at the University of Michigan. Eleven men were gathered here to effect an organization to advance the science of pharmacy and to foster and promote a fraternal spirit among its members. From this beginning, the fraternity has grown to a present size of forty active chapters, serving the major colleges of pharmacy in the United States.

The Omega Chapter, the twenty-fourth chapter of Phi Delta Chi, was founded in 1922 at the University of Tennessee at Memphis. Dr. R. L. Crowe, Dean of the School of Pharmacy at that time and later Grand President of Phi Delta Chi, was influential in founding the chapter. It is with great pride that we of Phi Delta Chi look at the past record of the fraternity.

Phi Rho Sigma

Phi Rho Sigma international medical fraternity was founded at Northwestern University in 1890. It has since grown to 27 undergraduate and 26 alumni chapters with approximately 2,600 and 31,000 members, respectively. The original chapter of Phi Rho Sigma was founded as Lambda Chapter of Chi Zeta Chi fraternity at the University of Tennessee in 1906. The two fraternities merged in 1929 under the present name. A professional fraternity with a program aimed at professional advancement of its members and service to the school, profession, and community. Phi Rho Sigma also sponsors a regular social program. A new modern chapter house, completed in 1962, is the site of many fraternity and social functions, as well as living quarters within walking distance of school for 32 men.

Psi Omega

Psi Omega Dental Fraternity was organized in 1892. Since its organization it has grown to be the largest Greek Letter Dental Fraternity in the world. At present there are thirty-six school chapters and forty-seven alumni chapters.

Psi Gamma Chapter was founded in 1936 at the University of Tennessee Medical Units and is now the largest Dental Fraternity on campus. Psi Gamma Chapter is proud of its leadership, scholarship, intramural standing and the fellowship which now exists within the fraternity.

Psi Omega fraternity seeks to create an atmosphere of professional congeniality that will last not only throughout the years of dental study, but also in the years of dental practice that lie ahead.

The Alpha Omicron Chapter of Xi Psi Phi was activated on March 26, 1921. The outbreak of World War II suspended the Chapter temporarily, but on November 15, 1941, the Chapter was reactivated and since then has remained an integral part of fraternity life on our campus. Our fraternity has proven itself a leader in scholarship, intramurals, and all University-sponsored activities over the years. The Zeta house is a familiar landmark at its post across from the Archway and its party room, the Pulp Chamber, is known to all. Our members, both here and those graduating before us, have tried to live to the profession the motto of our fraternity, "Hospitality is the life of friendship."

Richard Bowles rings out a hit in class softball play-off.

In class competition the Dental Class of December 1965 took the 1963 class softball championship and the Medical Class of June 1964 won the class volleyball title for 1964. Dr. E. L. Manley took the golf title and Harvey Barber the tennis trophy in the 1963 Open competition. The U.T. Medical Units was represented by three teams in the city basketball leagues, sponsored by the Memphis Park Commission: JGH, represented by house staff and students, won their league championship. The U.T. Nurses team competed in the Nurse League and played in the Mid-South "A" and Cotton States Nurses Tournaments. The Pharmacists played well in the All Memphis Women's "A" League.
ORGANIZATIONS
Alpha Omega Alpha is a non-secret college medical honor society, membership in which is based entirely upon SCHOLARSHIP and qualifications being satisfactory. It was organized at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, Chicago, August 25, 1902, and is the only order of its kind in medical schools on this continent. Its definite mission is to encourage personal honesty and the spirit of medical research. The Tennessee chapter elects members early in the spring quarter and holds its initiation banquet in June of every year. An effort is made at that time to obtain a speaker to give a talk on some medical or non-medical topic which is of current interest.
The R. D. Dean Odontological Society was founded at the University of Tennessee on December 6, 1948. It is an honorary society for undergraduate students in the College of Dentistry. It was named by its founders to honor Dr. Richard Doggett Dean, former Dean of the College of Dentistry and his wife, Dr. Margarette Taylor Dean, former associate professor of Oral Pathology. Its membership consists of outstanding junior and senior students who are selected by a combined Faculty-Student Election Committee. The purpose of the society is to propagate and perpetuate professional ideals and ethics; to exert its influence unstintingly for the advancement of the dental profession in methods of teaching, practice and jurisprudence; to elevate and sustain the professional character and education of dentistry; to promote among them mutual improvement and good will; and to disseminate knowledge of dentistry and dental discoveries.

Alpha Nu Chapter of Rho Chi, national honorary pharmaceutical society, was established at the University of Tennessee in 1948. Eligibility for membership in the society is based on high attainment in scholarship, character, personality, and leadership. All candidates selected for membership must have completed the eighth quarter of the curriculum of the College of Pharmacy. The fundamental objective of Rho Chi has always been to promote the advancement of the pharmaceutical sciences through the encouragement and recognition of intellectual scholarship. To attain this end, high standards of scholarship have been demanded for election to membership with the view that scholarship attainment indicates the capacity of the individual for outstanding achievement in pharmacy. Experience has shown that the reward of election to membership symbolized by the award of the Rho Chi key, supplies a scholarship incentive unequalled by any other rewards such as prizes or medals.

Nurses’ Student Council

Once yearly the student body of the University of Tennessee College of Nursing elects Student Council officers of the organization. In addition, the Council consists of a representative from each class, an appointed sponsor and an elected sponsor. This Council strives to carry out the purposes of the organization which are to encourage an attitude of cooperation between faculty and students, to maintain and uphold ideals and standards of the College, to bring about self-imposed discipline, to develop social efficiency of the individual as a citizen, and to develop a true sense of justice.

The Student Council is composed of four officers of the student body and the presidents of each quarter's class in Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Nursing, Dental Hygiene, and Medical Technology and delegates from other representative organizations on the campus. The officers of the Student Council are elected by the class presidents to serve for one year. The offices of President, Vice President, and Treasurer are rotated yearly between the Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Pharmacy and the Secretary is nominated from the College of Nursing. The class presidents of each college elect their respective representatives to the Council. The purpose of the Student Council is to promote the activities of the student life in the University, to serve as a center for such activities, to promote the best interests of the student, and to act as a liaison between the students and the faculty and administration. The Council spends much of its time in dealing with various problems the students may have.
The history of the University of Tennessee Chapter of the Student American Dental Association dates back to November, 1955, when it was first organized. Since its beginning the present membership now stands at one hundred percent of the eligible members. This fact is attributed to the hard work of the two sponsors, Dr. Robert E. Moyes and Dr. T. H. Shipman, along with the governing board of the officers and a representative from each of the twelve classes. The Student Chapter of the A.D.A. at U.T. has as its purpose to orient and interest the student in organized dentistry; to encourage active participation in organized dentistry after graduation and to work with our colleagues in the promotion of progress and higher ideals in the dental profession.

The Glee Club, initiated by Dr. T. H. Shipman, continued on this past year under the careful guidance of Dr. Robert Moyes. Many engagements are already scheduled and more invitations are coming in than the Glee Club can accommodate. Again this year many student members were asked to present table clinics at the Arkansas State dental convention on interesting topics in dentistry. The Tennessee State Dental Convention was held in Memphis this year and a large number of student members were asked to present clinics at this meeting.

The functions of the Student A.D.A. go to point out to the student the real advantage of belonging to a group that is organized with a purpose of progress for the profession and for every one of its members.

The University of Tennessee Student Chapter of the American Dental Hygienists Association is an organization composed of the dental hygiene students enrolled in the University of Tennessee. Participation in the organization helps to orient the student in her chosen profession, increase her interest in and knowledge of organized dental hygiene, and acquaints her with the importance of active membership in the American Dental Hygienists Association after graduation. The cooperative efforts of all members are directed toward the promotion of high standards and ideals for the dental hygiene profession.
The Student Chapter of the American Pharmaceutical Association was established at The University of Tennessee in 1948. The monthly meetings have been highlighted by prominent speakers from all fields of Pharmacy. Many other activities are sponsored by the Student Chapter permitting the members to come in contact with organized programs which are promoting the profession of Pharmacy. Every student in the College of Pharmacy joined the American Pharmaceutical Association this year, entitling them to the monthly editions of the Journal of the A. Ph. A. The College of Pharmacy accomplished another "first" this year. For the first time in the history of the organization every graduating senior joined the A. Ph. A. under the five-year pledge program. The Student Chapter is proud of the third edition of the Graduate, a student publication which introduces the graduating senior class and keeps Tennessee pharmacists abreast of the progress being made at The University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy.
The Junior Medical Auxiliary was founded in 1939. Since that time it has grown rapidly in size and in objectives. In 1959 the organization became part of the Women's Auxiliary to the Student American Medical Association (WA-SAMA). The Memphis chapter is the largest and one of the most active in the U.S. Present membership is near 130. The purpose of the Auxiliary is threefold: to provide fellowship for the wives of medical students, to prepare them for their future role as physicians' wives, and to render service to the community and the medical school.

Monthly programs vary according to the needs and desires of the members. Emphasis is placed on the value of having certain programs selected for their medical education as well as general educational value. The Auxiliary's regular activities and projects include community welfare work and a university-wide book exchange for the resale of textbooks. Perhaps the greatest service was the establishment of a loan fund for medical students. Last year the profits from cookbook sales enabled the Auxiliary to present a $500 check to the M. K. Callison Special Student Loan Fund.

The Junior Dental Auxiliary meets each month for programs, refreshments, projects and fellowship. The first meeting of each quarter, a reception is held honoring the first-quarter wives. They learn that Junior Dental Auxiliary means more than just an outing, but new friends and interesting programs such as fashion shows, talks from interior designers, hair styles and information on what their husbands are learning in dental school.

The Auxiliary's outside activities include birthday parties each month for the children at Porter Leath Orphans Home, luncheons at the end of each quarter to honor senior wives and fund-raising projects such as rummage sales. The Auxiliary is made up of approximately thirty active members. The officers and committees help to ready the new wives for senior Dental Auxiliary when their husbands graduate. Wives arriving in Dental Auxiliary while husbands are in school are ready to meet the public in a manner becoming their professional status.

The Junior Pharmacy Auxiliary was organized in the year of 1951 as a means to promote friendship and fellowship among the wives of the Pharmacy students of the University of Tennessee. First-quarter wives are welcomed with a tea at the beginning of the year. At the end of the year the wives of the senior students are given a dinner in their honor. Our main project this year was the sponsorship of an orphan from the Baptist Children's Home. We enjoyed having him at our Christmas party which was one of our interesting programs for the year.

The Koinonia

The New Testament Greek word koinonia, which means "fellowship," is used by this group to designate its purpose. Its members are Christians who reject all denominational barriers and loyalties in order to promote personal allegiance to Jesus Christ and fellowship with all who cherish a "like precious faith." Through worship, Bible study and fellowship activities they seek to comprehend, in the light of their spiritual commitment, the full scope of their responsibility as practitioners of the healing arts. By means of the transforming influence of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, they seek to conform their lives to the ideals of holiness, compassion and service to their fellow man which were exemplified by Christ. Their aim is to be the living embodiment of His presence in today's world. A devotional service is conducted regularly on Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m. for all who desire to attend. The meeting room is on the top floor, north side, of the University Center.
The 1964 Asklepion

This is it—the 1964 Asklepion! The staff hopes that the hours it has spent preparing this edition will provide you with years of memories and pleasure and serve as a record of your past year at the U-T Medical Units.

The editors, representing the Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Nursing, are grateful for the patient guidance of our advisors, Mr. Jim Stockdale and Mr. Bill Robinson.
