The Asklepieion is ... a word derived from the name of Aesculapius, the Greek god of medicine and healing. Aesculapius was honored and worshipped throughout the Greek world by persons seeking the healing powers of the physician. Temples were erected in honor of Aesculapius near healing springs or high mountains. Those who worshipped him were known as Aesculapae, therefore, the temples in his honor were known as the Aesculapions (Asklepieions). In the ancient city of Memphis, on the Nile River, there was a temple where persons went for worship and for care. In our own city of Memphis, on the Mississippi River, people come to our Asklepieion for healing and care. — Bill Robinson, Associate Vice Chancellor, Student Affairs.

SGAEC

The Student Government Association Executive Council (SGAEC) is an organization designed to represent all segments of our diverse student body here at UT Memphis. With this spirit of cooperation, the SGAEC this year has sought as one of its primary objectives to promote interests and issues important to us all. We believe that support of campus-wide organizations such as the International Student Association and the Black Student Association exemplify the tone of neutral support we feel is so vital to our campus. Other efforts toward this goal include the SGAEC’s continued support of campus-wide social events as well as informative programs such as Alcohol Awareness Week and the Senior Financial Planning Workshop. However, the program that best represents this council’s philosophy of campus-wide variety is UT Memphis’ joint philanthropy: The Church Health Center of Memphis. This philanthropy represents the common interest we all share as health professionals to deliver comfort and heal the suffering and needy. On behalf of the SGAEC, I wish you all the best in your efforts to meet this end. — Jason Fleming

Dirty looks...the end of a four year walk in the desert with no water...it's another year closer to the real world...it's almost the end of our prison term...knowing everything...that nightmare on Union Avenue Part II is almost over...knowing that next year there will be no more "starting checks"...that graduation is right around the corner.

The ASDA at the University of Tennessee, Memphis, serves as the student governing body of the College of Dentistry. Membership is optional for all students; however, ninety-five percent of the student body became members. The Executive Council consists of elected representatives from each class, dental fraternity presidents, and the Honor Council President. The Executive Council also consists of five positions which are filled by election, by the entire student body. Every Thursday, the Council meets over lunch to discuss mailers which need to be "ironed out" in the dental college, whether it is in relation to the administration, faculty, parking services, or even student life. The Chapter was especially proud of hosting the ASDA Annual Session and having Ginger Lee elected as National ASDA Vice-President.

Since September of 1964, the Honor Council in the College of Dentistry has been composed of four students from each class, elected in the spring of their first year of dental school. Prior to this time, six students were elected. It is the collective responsibility of the members of the Honor Council to protect the educational process by addressing possible violations of the Honor Code.

The Richard Dloggert Dean and Margaret Taylor Dean Honorary Odontological Society was formed in December of 1948. The purpose of this society is "To propagate and perpetuate professional ideals, ethics and techniques in the field of dentistry." Active members consists of University of Tennessee dental students who have met the high qualifications of this society. They must be in the upper one-half of their class scholastically, have a deep interest in the dental profession, have gentlemanly conduct and character above reproach. They must also show promise of making important contributions to the profession of dentistry.
The American Association of Women Dentists, founded in 1921, is a national organization geared toward the enrichment of women in dentistry. Our local chapter, established in 1985, is dedicated to serving the Memphis community and UTM Dental School. We will miss Dr. Judy Ross and wish her well in her future endeavors.

The Bowyer Lecture is an annual day set aside for Junior and Senior students to attend an informative and educational seminar. This year the subject matter was "Starting Your Dental Practice." HEALTHCO donated two handpieces that were given away during a drawing.
The Xi Psi Phi Dental Fraternity is cordially known as ZIPS. Several members reside in the fraternity house located at 249 Garland Street. There is a fully-equipped laboratory which is always available for use. Intramural sports, Friday Happy Hours, and theme parties are some of the social activities ZIPS are involved in. The ZIPS are also involved with community service projects such as a trip to the Memphis Zoo with children from the local Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. Xi Psi Phi enjoys serving UT-Memphis both socially and academically.

We have successfully completed the required courses. We have overcome the initial two stages of licensure examinations. We have chosen our areas of specialty and we have been matched with our residency programs. Now we are all doctors of medicine and our education is finally complete. Or is it? The process of becoming a physician is hardly so simple. We have only scratched the surface of what it is we need to know to become proficient in our field. We have just begun what will be a life-long process of learning, yet we will always remember those people, whether they be classmates, instructors, or patients who have touched us in the past four years and contributed to making this the beginning of our medical education, such a unique and memorable experience.

Jim Fragetta, President, Class of 1990
Bob Crowley and Robin Barnett discuss pressing medical issues; Michael Spurway awaits further information about the NIMH's Steve Johnson's 'parent's' stocking in the SAC; Keith Graham holds one of his favorite Le Bonheur patients. Matthew Scott and Ken Robertson find time to relax, and Thomas Pitman catches up on ACLS.
Med students are a crazy lot
It's very plain to see
We spend two years engorging facts
And drinking much coffee
Then with anticipation
We enter the year three
Only to discover
An absent memory
But all in all it's not so bad
It's even fun to be
On the verge, in one short year
Of being an M.D.
— David Mann, President, Class of 1991
Well, we've finally made it over the hump! It's taken us several years to get to this point and now it's time to begin to reap the reward. Sure it's been tough but someday we'll be able to look back enthusiastically and remember those "good ol' days."

We've joined together from all over the world and from every walk of life for one purpose—to exemplify the ultimate message of uniqueness to the human race as best we can, so that someday we can look upon ourselves as the leaders that others around us will look to. For we treat not just their physical and mental health, but we also affect the attitude, relationships, spiritual life, family life, and social responsibilities. So let's keep in mind the importance of our future careers doesn't lie in prestige, pleasure, pride, or power—but in helping others around us as best as we can.

Omar Hamada, President, Class of 1992
Clockwise: Brad Adkins (penens 5); Laura Tothbe and Keith Von de Castle (who contributed these photos) in the SAC; Cynthia Neri doing what M-2’s do most—studying; Michelle Scalellack and Rhonda Sullivan discuss those convoluted notes; Norma Anderson and Erika Creech wait for lectures to begin; and Keith Reitzel, Danii Kawecki, and Jeff Lawson in perfect form before the seemingly endless lectures. Center: Abbe Ebben and Loni Centers studying along.
The end of our first year in medical school: It seems like a decade and a week at the same time. (Orientation lasted at least five years.)

Rotting cadavers, interminable buffer-acid-base calculations, brain-slice hors d'oeuvres, pink blobs on Histology slides, all are but faint memories now — not that they were ever much more than faint memories.

Blind-eyed, slightly stunned, and yet, somehow relieved, we have staggered out of the M-1 door to see there is indeed a tunnel at the end of the light. 1010 days until graduation.

Brian Schafer, President
Class of 1993
Clockwise, from facing page, Upper l: Kirk Brody and Shali Ricker spend hard earned pesos; Bany Crabtree contemplates a lecturer's wisdom; Eric Smith rejoices while listening; Steve Simmons and a mystery M-1 ham (I) sit up for Gil's candid camera; Karen Ladnier converses while Erik Strelniek contemplates something entirely different than a lecture; Susan Bayat-Mokhtari, Lisa Lozier, and Salil Parikh help their team before Neuroanatomy lab; Larry Hauk, Angela Difelice, Tim Donovan, and Elizabeth Mann obtain life-giving sustenance; Gil Thayer, of candid camera fame, is caught by a candid camera; and Sahl Pankhi, Janak Naka, and Steve Simmons party with the girls.
The Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa prides itself on being a relatively small yet a tight-knit and active group. Our fraternity house is located at 747 Court Avenue and provides housing for 15 members. Over the past year numerous projects have been undertaken to improve the aesthetic quality of life at AKK, foremost among them were the purchase of new furniture and a new computer system, and the landscaping of our front lawn.

During this past year the chapter and its advisor, Dr. Hershel P. Wall, have made a concerted effort to keep our alumni informed about our activities and to get them more involved. And the reinstitution of monthly dinner/speaker meetings with relevant topics of interest in medicine has helped renew our dedication to academics outside of the classroom and the clinics.

AKK has its share of parties too! Beginning with a cookout and party to welcome the incoming M-1's, this has been a festive year for AKK. Other social activities included a joint party venture with Kappa Psi, our traditional Christmas party, the annual Super Bowl Sunday Blowout, and Spring Retreat.

Alpha Beta Chapter of the Phi Chi Medical Fraternity is proud to have celebrated its 75th anniversary this year. In September, Alpha Beta Chapter was honored to host the centennial anniversary of the Grand Chapter of Phi Chi. Delegates from across the United States and Canada were on hand for this historic meeting of our national fraternity.

Socially, it was a very exciting year with several rush functions, major parties and small chapter parties. Once again, the Phi Chi Spring Graffiti Party was a great success. We continued to upgrade our house, Baldur II, with additions to our office and recreation room. Constructed in 1970, we have a complete housing facility with 28 private rooms, parking, a complete central kitchen, a dining room, a library, a large party room and a recreation room. Many fall Saturdays were spent watching U.T. football games on our wide screen TV. Our recreation room has been upgraded and offers a pool table, ping-pong, juke box and a lounge area with TV.

Our officers this year included: Chris Frazier, President; Deaver Shattuck, Vice President; Lee Berkenstock, Treasurer; John Bush, Secretary; Keith Sanford, President Senior; Todd Stiles, President Junior, Allen Blackwood, Social Chairman, Gene Crafton, Rush Chairman, Randy Copeland, Athletic Director, and Carla Braxton, Alumni Coordinator.

Many thanks to the office of Student Life, especially Pam Moon, Jan Dugan, and Karen Williams, for guiding me through the production of this section of the Asklepiion. I’d also like to thank those who contributed their photographic talents, especially Gil Thayer and Ian Dugan, who worked endlessly. Finally, I thank my wife, Tamila, who urged me to get involved and helped untiringly.

The last four years can never be adequately chronicled with a few pictures and words, but I hope I have helped add to the precious memories of times spent with friends as we strive to attain the science, and practice the art, of medicine . . .

The Student Council consists of elected members of the Junior and Senior classes along with their faculty advisors. This group meets weekly to plan community service projects, social functions, fundraising activities, and to address issues and concerns of the students in the College of Nursing.

The goals of this year's council include increasing student participation in NSNA activities and attendance at the state and national conventions, promoting faculty and student relations and communication by reaching out to high school students to encourage nursing as a career choice and promoting the image of nursing.

HONOR COUNCIL

Our academic behavior as UT students is guided by the ethics established in our Honor Code. The Honor Code is based on the belief that professionals preserve high standards through peer critique and evaluation. Briefly, the Honor Code states that we will not cheat or tolerate those who do and will conduct ourselves in a professional manner. Violations are brought before the Honor Council and if deemed necessary, punitive actions are taken.

AINS

The Assistance for the Impaired Nursing Student program was initiated to respond to nursing students suffering from chemical dependency and/or other problems. Community professionals and student representatives compose the AINS council. They offer guidance, support and referrals. The aim of the program is to increase the awareness of such problems within the college of nursing and to help the impaired student succeed as a student and as a nurse.

The National Student Nurse's Association is an organization comprised of nursing students across the country. The organization provides nursing students with an opportunity to become involved in various political aspects of nursing as well as providing a channel through which each individual's voice can be heard at the local, state and national level. This organization has constant direct contact with the Tennessee Association of Nurses and the American Nurses Association. By being an active member of NSNA, a student learns valuable information about their career choice as well as an opportunity to influence nursing practice in the future.

SENIOR TRIP: Class of 1991

The Class of 1991 struggled through two months of modules in anticipation of our much awaited Senior Trip. Finally, October 22, 1989 came and three days of being pampered by Eli Lilly, we were on our way to Chicago. Our trip gave us many memorable moments, especially the following highlights:

Phi Lambda Sigma

Phi Lambda Sigma is making its mark on UT Memphis by recognizing those students who show outstanding leadership qualities in the field of pharmacy. Phi Lambda Sigma is the Pharmacy Leadership Society and it is a great honor to be chosen to be among its members. These members are not only leaders now, but will almost certainly go on to be leaders after graduation and be of great service to the profession of pharmacy.

Rho Chi

Rho Chi is an academic honor society that accepts the top 20 percent of the class. It is certainly an honor to be a part of this prestigious group. The members provide several services to the college of Pharmacy including the annual used book sale and the selling of the Remington Pharmaceutical Sciences book and other required textbooks at a reduced cost to students. Rho Chi holds its annual initiation banquet in the spring.

Pharmacy Mix

You won’t know what hit you.
The Academy of Students of Pharmacy is an organization that almost every pharmacy student is a member of and therefore it provides numerous opportunities to every student. This year the ASP regional convention in Gainesville, Florida, Tripartite in Nashville, and the national convention in Washington, D.C., offered students a chance to meet pharmacists and pharmacy students in all fields of study and from all parts of the country. ASP also provides many activities here at UT Memphis including the Drug Fair, which provides students an opportunity to become familiar with products from many drug companies. ASP also sponsors the Patient Counseling Competition for pharmacy students and brings speakers to campus to update students on health care topics. An annual golf tournament is sponsored by ASP also. The school year is concluded with the ASP banquet held during Pharmacy Weekend. This is an occasion to honor exemplary pharmacy students and faculty, as well as to welcome new students.
Kappa Psi, the oldest and largest of all professional pharmacy fraternities, has really had a great year at UT Memphis. A super Rush period, including the traditional "Welcome Back" party and the now-annual Buffalo River Canoe Trip, started this year and gave us 37 new pledges. Service projects for the year included Christmas parties for the children at St. Jude and The Porter-Leath Home, food and clothing drives for MIFA, and a visit to the VA Nursing Home to spread the holiday cheer. Kappa Psi's are very involved in the community, yet we like to have fun, too. The Big Brother/Little Brother Banquet, the annual Riverboat Party (this year with Brothers from Arkansas and Mississippi), and a fundraiser with Phi Delta Chi and ASP for the United Way are perfect examples of this. Intramural sports are another outlet for our Brothers and Kappa Psi very often comes out with top honors.
Phi Delta Chi, a professional pharmacy, carries a tradition of commitment and school service and this year was no exception. A successful newly started Phi Delta Chi’s 1989-1990 school year off with a bang. This year Phi Delta Chi participated as volunteers in the Big Brothers/Sisters of Memphis annual carnival. They donated blood and time and were the winners of the blood drive competition for Lifeblood. For Thanksgiving, the brothers collected canned foods and clothing for the Metropolitan Inter-Faith Association (MIFA). The brothers continued the tradition of visiting an area nursing home and celebrated Christmas by giving gifts and singing carols to the residents. At their annual Christmas party, the children of the Big Brothers/Sisters again joined the brothers for a dinner, caroling, and a visit from Santa Claus. School service is also a tradition and Phi Delta Chi continues to support the College of Pharmacy through various offices, organizational, and committee positions. In addition to making their mark in service, Phi Delta Chi has made their mark in fun by hosting campus wide parties including the annual Jungle and MIAH* Parties.

MEMO

Fraternally yours,
SHARON

The Student National Pharmaceutical Association is really leaving its mark on UT Memphis by being its newest organization. The chapter was founded on January 9, 1989 by nine students in the College of Pharmacy. The mission of SNPhA is to meet the challenges of the pharmacist and to direct health care expertise to improving minority communities. SNPhA further pledges to work with other organizations in the pursuit of charitable and educational objectives. This year SNPhA has been involved in many community projects, including a pharmacy career enrichment day at two area high schools and a blood pressure screening for the elderly. SNPhA also sponsored a blood drive competition between UT Memphis and Memphis State. UT Memphis won the competition by donating 170 pints of blood and the College of Pharmacy won the College challenge. The members also hope to expand their membership in the coming years so that they might be of greater service to the community and to the field of Pharmacy.

The Honor Code of the University of Tennessee insures that student academic affairs will be conducted with the highest standards of responsibility and thus promoting professional integrity. The Honor Council of the College of Pharmacy is made up of three elected representatives and an alternate from each class. Thus it is to be considered an honor to be elected to this council and shows leadership and trustworthy characteristics.

PSSA

The PSGA has had a very productive 1989-90 school year. The year began with a student leadership retreat, where representatives from each of the four pharmacy classes discussed special concerns and problems affecting the College of Pharmacy. There are plans to make the day-long retreat an annual event. Several pharmacy students were involved in formulating the Chemical Obstruction to Pharmacy Education (COPE) Program. This program will help to detect and treat substance abuse problems among students. The PSGA also kept busy raising money with the SGAEC for the Church Health Center. It is always satisfying to the students to participate in community service projects. In looking over the past year, it has been a pleasure working with our advisors, Dr. Dick Courtney and Dr. Jim Eoff.
