Asklepieion is a word derived from the name of Aesculapius, the Greek god of medicine and healing. Aesculapius was honored and worshipped throughout the Greek world by persons seeking the healing powers of the physician. Temples were erected in honor of Aesculapius near healing springs or high mountains. Those who worshipped him were known as Aesculapians. Therefore, the temples in his honor were known as Asklepieia (Asklepieions). In the ancient city of Memphis, on the Nile River, there was a temple where people went for worship and for care. In our own city of Memphis, on the Mississippi River, people come to our Asklepieion for healing and care.

There really is life after class.

Sitting still for several hours each day listening to lectures, doing lab work, caring for patients in the clinics, or reviewing texts and notes for hours on end will make you want to do something which requires no serious thinking. It makes you want to have fun. And fun we have!

There are lots of opportunities for picnics, parties, canoe trips, showers together (try), or just getting together with a few close friends to go to a movie or watch a video.

There is much more to an education on this campus than just learning about our individual disciplines. There is a lot to learn about people besides what goes on inside their bodies. There is a lot to learn about ourselves by being with others, spending time with family or friends, and making time to have a life outside of classes or clinics.

There really is life after class.
The student experience at UT Memphis lends itself well to the theme of the 1992 Logoaption "Piecing it all together." Day by day, week by week, year by year, we learn more about the intricacies of the human mind, body and soul. Every bit of knowledge gained is like a piece of a puzzle. Carefully, we place each piece, methodically completing the puzzle of our chosen discipline.

Outside of our academic experiences, we're piecing together another huge puzzle we call "life." There are decisions to make, goals to reach, relations to nurture, health to maintain, and responsibilities to fulfill. We encounter many obstacles in our quest to piece it all together. At times it seems like there are pieces missing from the puzzle and we don't feel complete. Other times, there seems to be too many pieces to fit, yet somehow it all seems to work together.

There is a point in our experience when the puzzles begin to mesh to form one giant puzzle. As our professional puzzle becomes more real and defined, our life puzzle becomes a part of it all, intertwined and interconnected. As health care professionals, we have a lifetime commitment and all that we do will now be a part of that puzzle.

As we approach graduation after years of piecing it all together, we realize that the puzzle will go on forever, each piece interlocking with the next, as we grow and experience new ideas, new advancements and new people along our lifelong journey as health care professionals.

A TIME FOR

FORMING FRIENDSHIPS
Right Stuff

Talent abounds at UT Memphis! That’s because we have the very best students in the State of Tennessee. In addition to being bright and dedicated scholars, out of the classroom or clinics, their personal interests and talents are expressed in a variety of ways whenever time allows. From the intramural playing field to the SAOG stage, many students share their talents with the campus community.

There are musicians, singers, dancers, athletes, artists, photographers, poets, writers, yearbook editors, gourmet cooks, comedians, and countless other talented people who all have the “right stuff” to help create a dynamic and exciting campus environment. They are continuing to piece it all together in their own way.

Bottom: Shrews (0-3), Mrs. Sensenig, and Hina Sharma, all dressed up in native costume, wait to perform their Indian folk dance called Rasas Dandys. Lower Left: The Peabody proves a stunning backdrop for December 1991 Commencement, with Chang-Jin Jeon leading the way.

The Ultimate Goal — walking down the aisle to receive your diploma. It seemed so difficult when we first entered UT Memphis. It seemed like it would take forever to reach graduation day. So much has happened. Think of the hundreds of hours we spent in lectures, classrooms, labs and clinics. The procedures we had to do over and over and over again until we had it down. No one said it would be easy and it wasn’t. But we have grown in so many ways — academically, socially, emotionally, spiritually, and mentally. We are all better off because of our experiences here. People are going to trust us with their care. We have to do it right. We have to do it to the best of our abilities. This is what we have been taught to do. This is what we will do.
SGAEC

The Student Government Association Executive Council (SGAEC) is an organization designed to represent all segments of our diverse student body here at UT Memphis. SGAEC members serve on and appoint other students to serve on university committees at all levels to ensure that the student voice is heard and considered in formulating new policies and making decisions. With a spirit of cooperation, the 1991-92 SGAEC bonded together to promote interests, issues, and activities important to us all. We continued all the traditional activities of past SGAEC, including supporting the Church Health Center as our major philanthropy, but our council also forged into new areas committed to increase communication and take a more assertive role in representing students.

The SGAEC began publishing a monthly report in the Student LifeLine and held the first annual Student Leadership Forum. The SGAEC met with UT President Dr. Joe Johnson and discussed student issues including tuition rates, funding of higher education, and college concern. The SGAEC strengthened relations with the faculty and worked with Faculty Senate leaders and the Chancellor to develop and establish Teaching Excellence Awards. In an effort to protect our environment and increase "earth-consciousness," the SGAEC purchased aluminum and recycling containers and revived discussions of a university recycling program. Personal safety awareness was promoted by the SGAEC through the establishment of a University Student Safety Committee and the addition of the Awareness Line, a daily crime report which is posted in various buildings across the campus. The Council also participated in the development of plans to remodel and refurbish student study areas around campus, and worked with the College of Business in independence study areas in the GEB. New social events this year included the very popular and entertaining Fun Flicks Video and special UT nights with the visiting Rockies. In addition, many other activities and projects designed to improve the quality of life for everyone here at UT Memphis, were sponsored by the SGAEC this year.

On behalf of the Council, it has been a pleasure representing and serving you this year. I sincerely thank our administration, staff, faculty, and students who have worked with and supported us throughout an exciting, challenging and successful year.

The Allied Health professional is often the unsung hero in the health care field. We labor behind the scenes and our efforts often go unnoticed. But, although our visibility may not be that of the physicians and nurses, we nevertheless provide just as indispensable a service in patient care. The training we receive in our years here at UT is intensive and grueling. However, we endure it, as we are truly dedicated to the welfare of the patient.

The Allied Health professionals — cytotechnologists, dental hygienists, medical record administrators, medical technologists, occupational therapists, and physical therapists — are all truly vital pieces in the health care puzzle.

PIECING it all TOGETHER

First is the student who strives to reach his lifetime goal of becoming a dentist. Second are the professors, who through their leadership, pass the torch of knowledge to the willing student. Third is the patient who trustfully allows the young and eager student doctor to brighten his smile.

After the people, there comes the place we call our daytime home for four long years. Whether it be in class or in clinic, UT Memphis is where we choose to be.

Finally we have the times. Good or bad, happy or sad, they are the times which we shall never forget.

People... Places... Times... Alone they are nothing, but as we “Piece it all Together,” we have the College of Dentistry.

The American Association of Women Dentists, founded in 1921, is a national organization geared toward the enrichment of women in dentistry. The local chapter established in 1985, is dedicated to serving the Memphis community and the University of Tennessee. This year the AAWD and its members had their first annual Valentine’s Day Party and raised money to donate to the Church Health Center.

The American Student Dental Association of the University of Tennessee, Memphis, serves as the student governing body of the College of Dentistry. Membership is optional for all students; however, nearly ninety percent of the student body are members. The Executive Council consists of selected representatives from each class and dental fraternity presidents, and the Honor Council President. The Executive Council also consists of the positions which are filled by an election of the entire student body. Every Thursday, the Council met over lunch to discuss matters which needed to be "ironed out" in the dental college, whether it is in relation to the administration, faculty, parking services or even student life.

The ASDA is also involved in fundraising for various projects around the Memphis area. The annual Peabody Bowl, aብtract funds for the Church Health Center. The party was enjoyed by all who attended and benefited a great cause as well.

CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY HELP PROGRAM

The Chemical Dependency Help Program was founded in 1987 and became active in 1989. It consists of two representatives from each class. The purpose is to help students to be aware of alcohol and drug addictions as a Dental student before they go to a private practice setting, and to educate students about the ramifications of having an addiction in one's career. The program at UT has been quite successful with this approach.

HONOR COUNCIL

Since September of 1984, the Honor Council in the College of Dentistry has been composed of four students from each class, elected in the spring of their first year of dental school. Prior to this time, six students were elected. It is the collective responsibility of the members of the Honor Council to protect the educational process by addressing possible violations of the Honor Code.

HONORARY ODONTOSTOLICAL SOCIETY

The Richard Doggett Dean and Margaret Taylor Dean Honorary Odontological Society was founded in 1948. The purpose of this society is to propagate and perpetuate professional ideals, ethics and techniques in the field of dentistry. Active members consist of all dental students who have met the high qualifications of this society. They must be in the upper one-half of their class scholarship, have a deep interest in the profession, have gentlemanly conduct and character above reproach. They must also show promise of making important contributions to the profession of dentistry.

PSI O'S was founded in Georgia in 1942 by William Hamilton and one of his colleagues. Since then, this two-member fraternity has grown to cover the nation with students and alumni as brothers. At the University of Tennessee, it has been an important part of campus life for decades by having numerous functions. Psi-0 was founded to establish a means for students to get to know one another, to form friendships and to help each other. The idea of Psi-0 is that there are other outlets besides academics that are important in obtaining a well-rounded education. Psi-0 is therefore an active participant in intramural sports, charity fundraisers, and campus parties. Psi Gamma Chapter here at UT is proud to be the largest chapter in the nation!
XI PSI PHI

Dental Fraternity is cordially known as the ZIPS. Several members reside in the fraternity house located at 249 Garland Street. There is a fully-equipped laboratory which is always available for use. Intramural sports, Friday Happy Hours and theme parties are some of the social activities ZIPS are involved in. XI Psi Phi enjoys serving UT Memph is both socially and academically.

DELTA SIG'S

SIGMA DELTA was established on November 15, 1882 by seven dental students in Ann Arbor, MI with a desire to render the best assistance in the highest professional manner. This founded the first dental fraternity in the world. It brought together the most talented students as well as outstanding teachers and practitioners. Delta Sig’s have strong faculty support because of the high standards and students as well as outstanding teachers and practitioners. The first two or so years of the graduate student experience are similar to those of most UT Memphis students, with classes providing background to the life sciences. As graduate students progress from the GEB to laboratories scattered about the campus, their puzzles begin to take on unique shapes, even within the same lab.

The individual research project of each student is designed to elucidate the student while he or she solves a section of the colossal life sciences puzzle. Often scant data serves as an incomplete set of pieces to his or her assigned puzzle, and a variety of theories—whether right or wrong—serve as the picture of what the puzzle might look like. The greater part of graduate school is spent in search of the missing pieces of the research puzzle—experiments, experiments, experiments, and more experiments. The experiments are never-ending, but as data is produced, the theories become closer to the truth, and the puzzle image becomes more clear.

According to Dorland's Medical Dictionary, Medicine is the "art and science of diagnosis and treatment of disease, and maintenance of health." However, words cannot describe the experience of medical school. Often times, it seems as if the "pieces of the puzzle" won't fit, but in the end they all form the complete picture — success at last!

No matter what our chosen specialty, we all share this common road — MEDICAL SCHOOL. We will always remember these four years. Hopefully with fond memories. "Winning to me means getting what you want. Not what your mother and father wanted for you, not what you think you can realistically get in this world, but what you want — your dream, your wish, your fantasy. You’re a winner when you have a life you love, so that you wake up every morning excited about the day ahead and delighted to be doing what you’re doing, even if you’re sometimes a little nervous and scared."

— Sunit Gottlieb
"What a two years of learning this has been. I have concluded this experience is good for us, for unless we are stretched, we do not grow. A quote to contemplate in the clinic: 'If I... fathom all mystery and all knowledge... but have not love, I am nothing.'

Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity

The Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa prides itself on being a relatively small yet tight knit group. Our fraternity house is located at 17 Court Avenue and provides housing for 14 members. During this past year the chapter and its advisor, Dr. Hornet P. Wali, have made a concerted effort to keep our alumni informed about our activities and to get them more involved. The fraternity continues to host monthly dinner/speaker meetings with various topics of interest in the field of medicine confirming AKK's dedication to academics outside the classroom and clinicals.

AKK has its share of parties too! Beginning with our annual cookout and party to welcome the incoming M-1's, this has been a festive year for AKK. Other social activities included a joint party venture with Kappa Psi, the annual Super Bowl Sunday Blowout.

Nursing is a profession that helps to piece the health care system puzzle together. Through direct patient care and extensive education, nurses play a vital role in the team of health care professionals who solve health care puzzles daily. Today’s nurse is not limited to strictly hospital care any longer. The field is wide open for nurses to become almost anything they want to become — nurse practitioners, clinical specialists, nurse anesthetists and much more. Through these expanded roles and communication with all other health professionals, nurses play an important part or “piecing it all together.”

Student Government

As Nursing as a science and career has grown, so has the need for leaders in nursing. Our participation as officers in Student Government provides leadership training, increased awareness in nursing issues and opportunities to begin creating positive changes in the nursing profession. Nursing has come a long way and we as future nurses will take it even further.

—Christen R. Lassiter
President
The Honor Council is comprised of two students from each class. The purpose of the council is to enforce the Honor Code which is an agreement all students sign before entering Nursing school that they will not "use, give or receive any unauthorized aid during exams; jeopardize the health or welfare of patients by recording or reporting fraudulent data; or willfully neglect clinical responsibilities." If a violation occurs, the complaint(s) are brought before the council and action is taken as deemed necessary.

The Assistance for the Impaired Nursing Student Program was founded in 1985. The purpose is to identify nursing students who are impaired as a result of alcohol, drug abuse or other psychiatric problems. When a problem is identified, counseling, guidance and/or referrals are offered. Comprised of nursing students and faculty advisors, the program is aimed to increase awareness of chemical dependency problems.

The Student Nurses Association is a student nurse's opportunity to become a professional member of their professional organization. The nationwide group offers the student the beginning of networking with other professionals, a powerful voice in legislation, and a support system for their profession. SNA gives one a chance to make a statement, a difference, memories and goals, which is the essence of one's profession.

PHARMACY

PIECING it all TOGETHER

Like a puzzle, the College of Pharmacy is created through the coming together of different elements. Each individual represents a piece of the puzzle, and each class forms an element of the puzzle. The P-1 class enhances the college with their enthusiasm, optimism, and dedication to the success of the student organizations. The P-2 class brings a wealth of knowledge through modules and externships. The P-4 class provides a broader perspective and the opportunity to engage in the full-time direction of the college, which links the class together, with the student, organizations, and the faculty. The center of the puzzle is represented by the student body. The faculty exists for the guidance and education of the students. They are represented by the college of pharmacy. COLLEGE OF PHARMACY.

Reflecting back over the past four years of Pharmacy School, I am filled with mixed emotions. We, the PHARMD2B Class of '92, have definitely experienced many highs and lows since September of 1988. As we began school, we were challenged by everyone to get involved and get the most out of our education. We accepted the challenge and quickly got to know one another (with the help of our word pictures), studied hard, played hard, and "shifted our gears" through the years. The years have not been easy; in pursuit of our PharmD, we suffered through hours of lectures, stacks of notes, modules, clerkships, projects, and tons of tests (Thank goodness for Highlighters, #2 pencils, caffeine, and plzzu). Along the way, we lost classmates, family, and friends to illness, academics, and personal situations, but through it all, we grew closer together. It wasn't all bad though, we also managed to have lots of fun. There were always lots of great parties and get togethers, fraternity and ASP functions, trips and many humorous moments. I'll never forget Kristen and her "upeedy pencil," Charles "?" Colloms, Barbara "Chatterbox" Chronister, Ron "Headphones" Keylon, and the many other funny people and events over the years. Our memories and friendships will truly last a lifetime. "Future Pharmacists," our time has arrived, and the future is ours. I challenge each of you to remain active in our college and profession. We can join our pharmacy associations, attend meetings, speak up, and make our profession the best ever. As we embark on our professional careers, let us always reflect back on our years at the UT Memphis College of Pharmacy with fond memories of good times and good friends.

Who are these people?

Explained to us first

Who wants to know?
The Class of 1993 is a family in the truest sense of the word. Like a cross between the Huxtables and the Simpsons, we laugh, play, love and fight. Like any large group of highly motivated, opinionated individuals, we have our disagreements. However, when tough times come and we need help, we can, without hesitation, turn to our fellow classmates and know that they will always be there for us.

Senior Class Trip

Sunday, October 80, 1981 at a very early 5:45 a.m. (thanks to LBH)

At 4:37 all boarded the “Ar” and headed downtown to Lexington Avenue to see the yogurt store with our “shersper.” Dr. Artploons. Moments later the first party bus was tapped and we were off. Several trips to the 7-11 for jellies and the like brought us the same 10 minute wait to get on the bus. Our group constituted of many colors and a new pair of pants later we overturned for breakfast at a local Restaurant’s. “Tours of downtown,” where we only were run through but spaced apace as well. By noon, Art was pacing the aisle for the bus. His mouth was agape with anticipation. As the second party bar was tapped up. Upon our arrival at Indianapolis we met up with four more of our classmates and Metteps Eli Lily Rep.

Joyce Mahanovllan and John A. Agors. After checking into our putsh

two rooms, the Lilly Adventure began

Unwound and dinner served and diners soon departed provided by astonishingly interesting pictures and tours (NOTT). After the meal and our bellies were full we made our way to the convention center which was the city for some of our own delight and dining (mostly dining). After 40+ people in Art’s to a happy hour, visits shippers, dancing, and a remarkable gymnastics performance that was classic, we turned back to our rooms seeing Art wondering. This is just individualism, how in the hell am I going to control that in Chicago? Fortunately, no arrests were made. Although one officer did voice his view to us just before what delay was doing flying down the middle of the roads. From Indianapolis, 26 of us 40+ delay of the day. We did not gather off to our respective parties back on the bus in full preparation of the night that we would be spending at the hotel. We found ourselves off at the Indianapolis Sky-Ramp for a hair-raising run around the hotel and a visit to the Indian Tower Hotel. (where we watched a huge thunderstorm close in.) Pharaoh of the Opera, Hard Rock Cafe, Rockefeller Mother’s 8th anny., stop (away from those noises), Marry Carly’s, a variety of museums and shopping glorious thing is we are all paying off those credit cards. A few of us saw Soldier Field and braved the subzero to visit Wrigley Field. Others tried their luck with Chicago tours. We took possession contracts after declaring that it’s in fact, looking to squeeze nine people (including the driver, but including one into a cab. One big highlight was the national winner debut of the new movie “Rock of Ages” on the Chicago Women show. The show was titled “Coltville with a Twist.” Since 1991 we paid to be a Chicago University and the fabled ending show, an abode of August D’Amico and his establishment—just Meling. It was supposed to be air now, 26)

We concluded our cultural tour down at Gino’s Pizza on Rush Street, where several bottles of red wine were handled in order so to wash our mark for possible. We stopped on the bus for a quick trip to the Chicago Stadium to view in the Chicago Bulls game. (and yes, Michael Jordan, actually played. Our trio was still up over as we could not wait to find our way to lunch. After a few precious moments, watching our way through Chinatown, we found a took for a quick bite to eat. We stopped at the

Who are these people?!
On August 20, 1990, 73 students walked through the doors of the GEB with anxiety and dreams of just surviving the next demanding semester of a DPT program. A year later, now in our second professional year, our fears have been somewhat eased and our focus has shifted to increasing our knowledge to better serve others in the near future. Our class has learned the value of time management skills in order to incorporate our important activities. Although we all understand the necessity to maintain good academic standing, we have realized the importance of being involved in organized extra-curricular activities. Therefore, the Class of 1994 has taken an active part in and the majority of the leadership roles among the various organizations within our school. Because of our diverse and organizational involvements, we make an effort to join the competitive school intramurals or at least cheer classmates on. Overwhelmed by the various opportunities that lie ahead, we can no longer ignore the rewards we will reap. Overcoming obstacles day by day and cherish the lifelong friendships we have made.

Surprise Me!
The Pharmacy Class of 1995 has discovered that Pharmacy School is everything it promised to be AND MORE! The year began with Rush parties, Orientation, and other functions that gave everyone the chance to become acquainted. Class officer elections were held, and Mary Lisa Phillips was elected President. Laura Arnold and Jim McMackin — Vice-Presidents, Gretchen Holman — Secretary, Kelley Britton — Treasurer, Heidi Baumann and Shane Moors — Athlete Directors, Camille Pickens and Denise Trent — Social Chairperson, and Gina Bryant — Class Counselor.

Goals were formulated and the class decided that "Unity" is the key! Committees were developed such as fundraising, community service, and faculty appreciation that give everyone the opportunity to be involved! Busy is definitely the word to describe the Pharmacy Class of 1995, and we are excited about the next four years!
The Academy of Student Pharmacists (ASP) is an organization that expands pharmacy education beyond the classroom and introduces students to the workings of the 'real world' of pharmacy. ASP offers students the opportunity to develop relationships not only with students from the UT campus, but also with pharmacists and students from the local area, the state, and the nation. ASP’s strength as an organization comes from the participation of its members who work on the organization’s fifteen different committees. There is a place for everyone. ASP is proud of its membership because it includes almost every pharmacy student. Throughout the year, ASP sponsors many different events such as ASP day and Patient Counseling Competition in the fall, as well as the Drug Fair, Geriatrics Day, and the Golf Tournament in the spring. ASP activities wind down with an awards banquet in the spring, which recaps the year, celebrates our achievements, welcomes incoming students, and allows some relaxation before finals.

For the Omega Chapter of Phi Delta Chi, the 1991-92 academic year has been packed full of successes. The Omega Chapter received its national award, one of which was the prestigious President Award for academic achievement. In addition, Rush '91 proved to be a great success with all brothers getting to know the first-year students, making new friends, and forming important bonds with thirty-two new brothers. This year we continued the tradition of service to the community by distributing gifts to the Memphis Inter-Rho Association, giving blood in the local nursing home, and participating in the annual SGA blood drive. We also supported the annual Memphis Charity Ball, which raises funds for local charities.

In addition to community service, we continued the tradition of Rush, which proved to be a great success. We welcomed thirty-two new brothers into the chapter and formed important bonds with them. The rush process was a unique experience for all members, and we look forward to continuing this tradition in the future.

We would like to extend a special thank you to all our dedicated members who have contributed to the success of the chapter. We appreciate your hard work and commitment to Phi Delta Chi.

Kappa Psi at UT has had an exciting year! As a professional fraternity, Kappa Psi is dedicated to promoting the growth of each member and the profession as a whole. The brothers of Kappa Psi divide their time between community service projects, social activities, leadership activities, and scholastic achievement. Kappa Psi kicked off the 1991 school year with the traditional Welcome Back Party and rush soon followed with highlights including the annual Buffalo River Canoe Trip, the Kamana Warrior's Party, Blackfoot Bowling, the UT Football Party, and a formal rush banquet with special appearance by our very own "Pal ia. A successful rush brought Kappa Psi to the brotherhood's 93 new pledges. The Big Brother/Little Brother relationship is a cornerstone of community service projects, leadership development, and the trip to Kappa Psi Province Seven Meeting in Austin, Texas, are among the activities that Kappa Psi took part in this year. RHO CHI

Rho Chi is an academic honor society that selects the top 20 percent of the class (with 15% during the second year and an additional 5% in the third year), aside from the annual initiation held in the spring. Rho Chi provides several traditional services to the College of Pharmacy including the annual used book sale and the selling of the Remington Photographic Science book and other required textbooks at a reduced cost to students. New projects initiated this year include a summer letter to the newly accepted P-1's, a Graduate Files Program, an updated alumni address list, a monthly Faculty Publication Display, co-sponsor of the first Residency Showcase, and participation in a UTHR Curriculum Review National Research Project. It is quite an honor to be a part of this prestigious group.

The Student National Pharmaceutical Association

The Student National Pharmaceutical Association is an organization whose mission is to meet the challenges of the continuously expanding role of the pharmacist, and to direct health care efforts to improving the quality of health care in minority communities. Since its beginning in 1983, membership, as a result of the chapter's impact on campus, has increased considerably. Members not only involve themselves with pharmacy-related issues, but direct their interest towards other health care related issues. This year has been no exception. With everyone on one accord with the the same goals, members participated in projects such as blood pressure screening for the elderly, high school recruitment, and a campus-wide blood drive campaign. As a result of the chapter's yearly activities, members received two outstanding trophies for superior excellence and professional service.

TAPESTRY

Our lives are but fine weavings
That God and we prepare
Each thread becomes a fabric planned
And fashioned in His care...

We may not always see just how
The weavings interlace,
But we must trust the Master's hand
And follow his design.

For His eye views the pattern
Upon the upper side,
While we must look from underneath
And trust in Him to guide.

Sometimes a strand of sorrow is Added to His plan
And though his path is rural for us...
We still must understand
That as He who fills the shuttle
It's He who knows what's best.
So we must weave in patience
And leave Him to the rest...

Not all the loom is silent
And the shuttles cease to fly
Shall God unroll the canvas
And explain the reason why...

The dark threads are as needed
In the weaver's skillful hand
As the threads of gold and silver
In the pattern He has planned.
As professional social workers, we are committed to the process of helping individuals, families, groups, and communities to improve or restore their capacity for social functioning and to create societal conditions favorable to their goals.

Our challenge is to assist our clients/patients in putting the pieces of their puzzle together in order to lead more productive, healthier and satisfying lives.

Student Council Launches New Initiatives

The UTCSW became very involved this year in a number of new projects. The student council launched several new activities to benefit students and faculty. Council members developed a field work file that evaluated current field placements for future students. Also, the council began sponsoring monthly Journal Club meetings with different students presenting and monthly brown bag lunches with guest speakers discussing topics of interest to faculty and students. Council members also started a bi-monthly newsletter entitled The Pages that contained announcements from the president, editorials, and profiles on students. Students and faculty donated money to purchase a brick titled 1991-92 UT College of Social Work to go into the walkway leading to the Memphis Pyramid with proceeds benefitting MIFA.

Finally, our most successful and rewarding endeavor was our Carl Wilks Adopt-a-Family project. In memory of late professor Dr. Carl Wilks, social work students adopted a needy family. This family consisted of a single mother with twelve young children. Students and faculty donated very generously to this family during the Christmas season. Thanks to all of us, twelve children had the best Christmas they’ve ever had.

If you want to be cool...and really hip
Form a hepin'...relationship
Start with a plan and objectivity
Seasoned with "love" and a little empathy
Treat that client with warmth and respect
Do much more than anyone expects
And if you...consciously use yourself
Your client will find wholeness and health
You gotta follow through with the plan to a tee
And don't you expect no sympathy
Just do your job with a little zest
Your client will do their very best

The relationship will bloom and grow
Your client will leave feeling all a'paw
Solving their problems...here and there
Takin' risks and meetin' dares
Now, here comes the hard part — letting go
Pushing your client right out the door
It won't come easy...termination phase
You'll struggle real hard, your mind's in a haze
But rest assured, you'll be all right
You've attended to process with all your might
(You can go on) home (and even sleep) at night 'cause you've formed a relationship that works just right!

We've Pieced It All Together For You!

The 1992 Asklepion Staff chose the theme, "Piecing it all Together," as the theme of this yearbook because day after day, UT Memphis students piece together the intricate details and facts that they learn in classrooms and on-the-job experiences, and through this "piecing together," they become accomplished students and health-care professionals.

Likewise, the Asklepion Staff spent many long hours "piecing it all together" for this yearbook. Hundreds of photographs, layouts, pieces of copy, bits of information, photo identifications, and scheduling photographic appointments have all come together to create this lasting memory of the 1991-92 year at UT Memphis.

A special thank you is extended to Trisha Davis and April McCleen for completing their THIRD year on the staff; and for ALWAYS meeting the deadlines on time! Second year editors, Tina Dutt, Jeff Jaynes and Maricela Rodriguez worked together as an efficient team to put their section together in a timely manner.

For those who just began their experience on the staff, a special note of appreciation is extended to Bridgett Sanders, Joy McCalla, Robert Blane, and Karen Clennay, for their tireless efforts and dedication to the yearbook. It's too bad for the Asklepion that you all are graduating, but we hope you will look on this year as being very productive and exciting whenever you look at this yearbook!

To the photographers, Jan Dugan, Connie Waters, Thomas Knapp, and James Astbury, we thank you for your creative talent and energy. Photographs are the most essential element of the yearbook, and we appreciate the fine quality and effort you gave the book.

Thank you also to Emily Barnes for lumping right in and lending a helping hand when needed, and to Ethan Porter for completing the Intramural section.

Without the help and assistance of Jan Dugan, this publication would not have been possible. She was able to advise the student editors, schedule all the photos, take many of the photos (and develop and print them as well), draw layouts, and basically hold it all together through all the deadlines. Jan, we thank you for your commitment and enthusiasm. Your talent and creativity made all the difference, and we are so grateful to you and your abilities!

The entire staff joins me in wishing you well. We hope that you enjoy reviewing and remembering the year that we have pieced together in the 1992 Asklepion.
