NEW FACULTY

GENERAL SURGERY

Welcome to the first newsletter of the 2018 calendar year.

During the past quarter, the Department of Surgery has seen a continued growth of faculty and programs. In this issue, we are delighted to introduce you to several new faculty recruits to the Department of Surgery in the Divisions of General Surgery, Surgical Oncology and Transplantation.

In the Fall of 2017, we launched the UTHSC Department of Surgery Visiting Professor Series and were fortunate to have Dr. Keith Ozaki, John A. Mannick Professor of Surgery, Harvard Medical School and Director of Vascular Surgery Research at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston, MA serve as our inaugural lecturer. Additional distinguished visiting professor lecturers included Dr. Charles Vollmer Jr., Professor of Surgery and Director of Pancreatic Surgery at the University of Pennsylvania (Kosten Lecturer) and Dr. Daniel Maluf, Professor of Surgery and Director of Liver Transplantation at the University of Virginia.

In this issue's Faculty Spotlight, we feature Dr. Ying Zhuge, Assistant Professor in the Division of Pediatric Surgery and her initiation of a comprehensive surgical weight-loss program at Le Bonheur Children's Hospital to tackle the important issue of adolescent obesity in our region.

We continue to take great pride in the accomplishments of our faculty and residents! Please enjoy our current newsletter.

Best,

David Shibata, MD,
Scheinberg Endowed Chair in Surgery
Professor and Chair
Deputy Director, UT West Cancer Center

Dr. Denis Foretia,

Assistant Professor in the Section of Acute Care and General Surgery, Division of General Surgery. Dr. Foretia joins us from Sinai Hospital, Department of Surgery, Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, Baltimore, MD. He received his MD from Vanderbilt University and completed his general surgery training at Emory University in Atlanta, GA. He received his MPH from the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health and his MBA from the Carey School of Business at Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Foretia will be working at both

Methodist University and Methodist Germantown Hospital and will provide his expertise to the UTHSC Global Surgery Institute.

Dr. Mary Brinson Owens,

Assistant Professor in the Section of Acute Care and General Surgery, Division of General Surgery. Dr. Owens returns to Memphis from her previous position as attending surgeon at St. Bernard's Regional Medical Center in Jonesboro, Arkansas. She completed both medical school and her residency in general surgery at UTHSC. She will be providing general and emergency services at Methodist University and Methodist North Hospital.

Dr. Vasanthi Balaraman, Assistant Professor, Division of Transplantation. Dr. Balaraman attended medical school at Vinayaka Missions' Kiriupunanda Variyar Medical College in India and received her training in Internal Medicine at Saint Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston, NJ. She completed fellowships in Nephrology and Transplant Nephrology at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center and Transplant Nephrology at Columbia University Medical Center, New York, NY, respectively.

Dr. Arijit Chakravarty, Assistant Professor, Division of Transplantation. Dr. Chakravarty was most recently, Director of Transplant Nephrology at Our Lady of Lourdes Medical Center in Camden, NJ. He graduated from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ) in Newark, NJ. He completed his Internal Medicine residency at UMDNJ and his fellowship in Transplant Nephrology and Vanderbilt University in Nashville, TN.

SURGICAL ONCOLOGY

Dr. Justin Monroe, Assistant Professor in the Surgical Oncology Division. Dr. Monroe attended and graduated from the University of Tennessee College of Medicine in 1999. He completed his general surgery residency at UTHSC (2004) and a fellowship in Colon and Rectal Surgery at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas, TX (2005). Most recently, he worked with Memphis Surgical Associates.

DIVISION NEWS

GENERAL SURGERY

The City Government of Victorias, Philippines and the Memphis Mission of Mercy signed a memorandum of understanding Monday, October 9, for the establishment of a two story, 40-bed Memphis Mission of Mercy Surgery Center. The signing was lead by Mayor Francis Frederick Palanca and Dr. Nia Noel Millen Zalamea, Assistant Professor of Surgery, Division of General Surgery, in rites held at Victorias City Hall.

TRANSPLANT SURGERY

The UT/MUHTI (University of Tennessee/ Methodist University Transplant Institute) directed by Dr. James Eason, Professor and Chief, Division of Transplantation, celebrated its one-year anniversary of performing living donor liver transplantations. In September, a celebratory reception was held for donors, recipients and family members.

FACULTY AND STAFF RETIREMENTS

Dr. Timothy Fabian, Professor, Division of Trauma Critical Care General Surgery Division Chief

Dr. Fabian is a graduate of Loyola University's college and medical school (Stritch School of Medicine) in Chicago, IL. Following medical school, Dr. Fabian completed his surgical residency training at Ohio State University and from there, he attended Emory University's School of Medicine, where he completed his fellowship in trauma/critical care at Grady Memorial Hospital. After serving as faculty at Emory, he moved on to the University of Tennessee in 1980 where he began an academic career in trauma. During his career, he helped to organize and develop one of the largest volume trauma centers in the United States – The Presley Memorial Trauma Center at Memphis. Dr. Fabian is a Harwell Wilson Alum and has served in various academic and professional appointments including President of Eastern Association for the Surgery of Trauma and as Chairman of the Department of Surgery, University of Tennessee Health Science Center which he held for sixteen years. Dr. Fabian has published nearly one hundred plus peer-reviewed articles, as well as forty plus chapters. After retiring from the University of Tennessee in December of 2017, Dr. Fabian has proposed to remain with our hospital affiliate in the Trauma Center, and he will continue his committee obligations for organizations such as the National Trauma Institute and the Coalition for National Trauma Research. As of January 2018, Dr. Fabian has been granted the status of Professor Emeritus, Department of Surgery.

Dr. Santiago Vera, Professor Division of General Surgery, VA Medical Center

Dr. Vera is a graduate of Central University of Venezuela Medical School, and he completed his surgical residency and transplantation fellowship at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center where he also served as Clinical Instructor. Dr. Vera then moved on to serve as an Assistant Professor of Surgery at Rush-Presbyterian, St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago, IL, but returned to the University of Tennessee in 1986, serving as faculty in the Department of Surgery. Dr.

Vera has served in various academic and professional appointments during his tenure, including Medical Director, Liver Transplant Program, Assistant Chief of Surgery, General and HepatoPancreatobiliary Surgeon at the Memphis Veterans Affairs Medical Center, and Medical Director, Mid-South Transplant Foundation. Dr. Vera has served UTHSC and patients in the Memphis community for over thirty-seven years, treating more than one thousand liver and one thousand kidney transplant recipients. Additionally, Dr. Vera has published and presented more than one hundred plus papers on organ transplantation. As of April 2018, Dr. Vera has been granted the status of Professor Emeritus, Department of Surgery.

PEDIATRIC SURGEON AT UTHSC/LE BONHEUR LAUNCHES ADOLESCENT BARIATRIC SURGERY PROGRAM

Peggy Reisser, Communications Specialist

It has taken more than a year and a half of work, but pediatric surgeon Ying Zhuge has established an adolescent bariatric surgery program in Memphis that is one of only a few in the country.

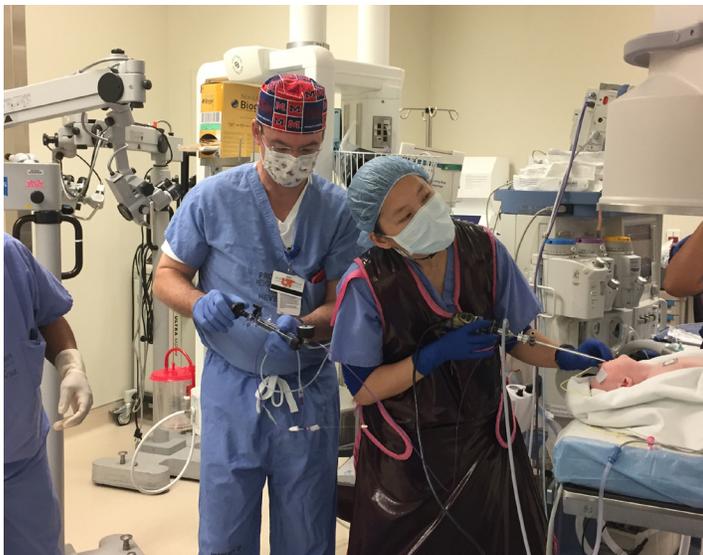

An assistant professor of surgery and pediatrics at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center, Dr. Zhuge launched a bariatric surgery program for adolescents ages 16 to 21 at Le Bonheur Children's Hospital on September 27, when she performed the program's first laparoscopic sleeve gastrectomy on a 20-year-old patient.

Once considered only for obese adults, bariatric surgery increasingly is seen as an option for the most severely obese adolescents.

The weight-loss surgery program is one part of Le Bonheur's Pediatric Obesity program, which includes a multidisciplinary Healthy Lifestyle Clinic designed to help children and teens manage their weight through a variety of options centered around behavioral and lifestyle changes. These include improving food choices, increasing exercise, and counseling for the child and family members.

According to the Mayo Clinic, almost one-fifth of adolescents in the United States are obese, and approximately 7 percent have severe obesity. As these numbers climb in adolescents, so do accompanying health issues, including type 2 diabetes, hypertension, obstructive sleep apnea, cardiovascular disease, and mental health problems.

As a result, the medical community is beginning to accept that for some young people, those with a BMI over 40 or weighing 300 pounds or more, surgery may be less problematic than those long-term health complications.

"The surgery is not the end, it's a kick start," Dr. Zhuge said. The surgery begins the weight loss that can then be amplified by healthier behaviors to last a lifetime.

"It's not that you have surgery and you're fixed, it really is a lifestyle change," she said. "It's just a beginning, kind of like a springboard, and once they lose a lot of weight, they are more active and move around better and they can keep their healthy lifestyle."

The surgery on the first patient in the program took approximately an hour and a half. The patient went home two days later, and in the first two months after surgery, lost approximately 40 pounds.

Born in China, Dr. Zhuge was 10 years old when her family immigrated to the United States. She received her bachelor's degree from the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Florida, in 2002, and her MD from the Miller School of Medicine at the University of Miami in 2006.

She came to Memphis after a general surgery residency at Jackson Memorial Hospital at the University of Miami. She had visited Memphis only once for her fellowship interview, but she remembers feeling so at home at Le Bonheur, that the match was welcome.

Dr. Zhuge completed a pediatric surgery and pediatric surgical oncology fellowship at Le Bonheur and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in June 2015.

She then joined the Division of Pediatric Surgery at UTHSC and Le Bonheur. She also became part of the team at the Healthy Lifestyle Clinic “I had done a fair amount of adult bariatric surgery,” she said. The movement to bring bariatric surgery to younger patients progressed, and she began to build the program in Memphis. She visited other successful programs, ordered equipment, identified potential patients, and negotiated insurance issues.

Even as Dr. Zhuge worked to improve the health of her patients, she faced her own health crisis. She was diagnosed with breast cancer in June 2017. Because her mother died from the disease at a young age, her father had urged her for years to have genetic screening. Busy first with school and then work, she put off the test. She got the screening after she finished training, and tested positive for the CHEK2 mutation.

At age 35, her first MRI brought the diagnosis. “The stage was really early and I’m doing really well,” she said. She is engaged to Timothy Weatherall, MD, a vascular surgery Fellow at UTHSC.

Dr. Zhuge said she is grateful for her partners at Le Bonheur who stepped in and helped when needed, as she went through chemotherapy and continued her surgical duties at Le Bonheur.

Now, her focus is on building the adolescent bariatric surgery program. She said she aims to do 30 of the surgeries a year and will follow each patient for three years after surgery.

Along with other members of the Healthy Lifestyle Clinic team, she plans to conduct research to contribute to the dearth of knowledge on long-term effects of the surgery on these younger patients.
